Seek County Port Bond Election Call GRAND JURY RETURNS 2 TRUE BILLS IN CHICAGO

MILLION OR MORE TO BE SOUGHT OF TAXPAYERS

Supervisors and Members of Harbor Board to Consider Proposal

PREVIOUS WORK IS APPROVED BY BEACH

Glowing Future of County Harbor Is Painted In Expert's Report

HIGHLIGHTS OF REPORT

One of the two or three natural harbors between San Diego and San Francisco bays and the best of these.

The entrance to the bay may be regarded as unusually favored.

The taxpayers are to be congratulated upon the painstaking care which has been given to both plans and work already done.

Credit should be given to the Committee of Fifty for the work it has done.

Channels have maintained depth and in fact appear to have deepened somewhat.

Provide some accommodation for yachts. Men who own yachts are usually keen business men with eyes open for opportunity.

An immediate election, call, to submit to the voters a bond issue of not less than $1,000,000, with the probability of a $1,500,000 issue, for the development of Newport harbor, will be the outcome of a conference scheduled for next Tuesday between the county supervisors and the harbor commission.

At the coming conference the officials will give final consideration to the report of Gen. Lansing H. Beach, consulting engineer, who has estimated a cost of $2,000,000 for a full development program, and who recommended immediate voting of bonds for that amount, to be used as needed.

Following the suggestion of General Beach that the county should proceed on a scale that would make its program more or less independent of federal aid, the officials will operate on the further theory, it is said, that federal aid will be more easily secured if the county has already prepared itself to meet the usual federal conditions, namely, to match appropriations for appropriation. For that reason, it is stated, the supervisors plan to submit a bond issue of $1,000,000 at once.

The Beach report, with its glowing description of Newport harbor possibilities, was said to have provided a powerful stimulus to early action by the county.

After a most complete study of the harbor situation, his findings being set forth in a 50-page report, supported by detailed figures of work and expense, General Beach declares that commerce can be developed by taking the proper steps, and points out that the harbor's proximity to the bulk of Southern California's population assures a steady commercial growth.

Previous development work at the harbor was well done and has been justified, said his report, which paid tribute to the previous harbor reports, including the work of the Committee of Fifty.

Construction of a second jetty, raising of lands wherever possible, and provisions for yacht anchorage, which latter he estimates would cost $120,000, were recommended in the report. The investment in yacht anchorage would be a paying one, he believes, because yacht owners are, as a rule, keen business men with an eye for opportunity, and it would be well to encourage their presence. Besides, it is suggested, the turning basin thus provided would be of advantage to all harbor traffic, and would in addition improve the main channel.

The Beach report provided figures for two smaller alternative programs, one at a cost of $400,000, and the other at $610,000, should the county decide to proceed on a smaller scale. These two projects would mean a more shallow harbor, able to accommodate only barges and smaller vessels.

Pastor Seeks New Vote On Boxing Law

SACRAMENTO, March 18.

An initiative against the recently created boxing commission will be sought by churchmen throughout the state at the next general election, the Rev. F. G. Larkin, representative of the California Church federation declared today.

Larkin made the statement to this effect before a meeting of the assembly committee on constitutional amendments which yesterday tabled a proposed amendment to the initiative law.

"The boxing bill is the only bad measure to spring out of the initiative," Larkin said today in discussing the stand of the churchmen, "and we propose to seek its repeal at the next general election."

BELIEVE ENTRAPPED MEN DEAD

'FRAME-UP' SAYS SHEPHERD OF M'CLINTOCK INDICTMENTS

Above are Mr. and Mrs. William D. Shepherd of Chicago, principal figures in the investigation into the death of William "Billy" McClinton, millionaire orphan, who died of typhoid fever as his fiancée stood at the door of the hospital room with a marriage license in her hand. Shepherd and the proprietor of a Chicago medical school were today formally charged with the murder of McClinton, said to have been brought about by inoculation with typhoid germs obtained by Shepherd from the Chicago hospital. Shepherd's chief comment is "frameup." Mrs. Shepherd was wrough-up when she heard her husband had been indicted for the crime.

ALL HOPE OF MINE RESCUE IS GIVEN UP

Abandon Thought of Bringing Out Alive 34 Caught In West Virginia Colliery

FAIRMONT, W. Va., March 18.

—All hope for rescue of the 34 men entombed in Bethlehem company coal mine No. 41, by an explosion was virtually abandoned at noon today after rescue squads had forced their way into the mine for more than a mile without hearing a sound that indicated the presence of life.

Rescue leaders said that if the men were alive it would be likely the squads penetrating the debris would hear tapping.

Directors of the rescue work denied a report that bodies were found.

Benton Mitchell, superintendent of the mine, announced after a conference, it was believed all the men had perished in the explosion or had been suffocated by gas following the blast.

Watchers on the hillside overlooking the shaft, however, did not give up hope that their loved ones would be saved. A great crowd milled outside the restricted zone, hoping against hope that the rescue squads would find the trapped men in a chamber free from gas.

Despite denial by mine officials that the explosion was caused by dynamite planted in the mine, Sheriff Higgins arrested three men today on suspicious character charges.

These men, it is said, were hired recently and were the last to leave the workings before the explosion.

R. M. Lambie, chief of the West Virginia department of mines, would not hazard a guess as to cause of the explosion.

It is believed the roofs of the underground passageways collapsed, sealing the men as in a tomb.

Thousands of persons gathered at the mouth of the pit following the explosion and rescue squads were organized with the state department of mines in charge.

Receiver for Railroad Is Asked of Court

NEW YORK, March 18.

Receivership action against the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad was started today. Creditors instituted the action. Earlier in the day, similar action was started in Chicago.

H. E. Byram, president of the road, and Mark W. Potter, former member of the civil service commission, were appointed receivers in the action here. They will be under a joint bond of $50,000.

They, with one other, were also appointed receivers in Chicago this morning.

NEW CABINET OF COOLIDGE IS COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, March 18.

President Coolidge's new cabinet was finally completed today with the addition of his old friend, John Garfield Sargent, of Vermont, selected by the President to be attorney general after Charles Beecher Warren, his first choice, removed himself from consideration.

Sargent, whose name was barely known in Washington before he was nominated and confirmed, is already the center of interest and regarded by some as likely to become one of the most influential members of the cabinet.

He is described as one of the best lawyers in New England, more conservative by far in his views than the President, a notable fisherman and an adept at making maple syrup.

He has been a lifelong friend of the Coolidge family. The capital would not be surprised to see him become one of the closest advisors to the President in all official Washington.

Though the senate confirmed Sargent last night without a moment's hesitation or even a record vote, a report of the nominee's political views given the judiciary committee by Senator Dale, Vermont, caused a slight start.

Sargent told the committee that Sargent was a real conservative, that he had opposed the woman suffrage amendment, the direct election of senators amendment and that, though he was now an advocate of law enforcement, he had opposed the prohibition amendment.

PAWHUSKA, Okla., March 18.

Hundreds of leaders of the oil industry, oil men, speculators, overnight fortunes from "wildcatting," were assembled in Pawhuska today for the sale of oil leases on 56,000 acres of Osage Indian lands.

Recent advances in price of crude oil were expected to bring about spirited bidding for the leases.

Those familiar with the oil business believed today's sale would approach the famous $14,000,000 sale of Osage leases last March.

WASHINGTON, March 18.

President Coolidge today sent to the senate the following nominations for confirmation before the senate adjourns:

William J. Donovan, New York, to be assistant to the attorney general.

Thomas F. Woodlock, New York, to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

William F. Booth, Minneapolis, and Arba S. Van Valkenburgh, of Missouri, to be U. S. circuit judges for the eighth circuit.

George L. Kreeck, of Kansas, to be minister to Paraguay.

The following to serve as members of the board of tax appeals: William R. Greene Jr., of Iowa; Percy W. Phillips, New York; Logan Morris, Texas.

Donovan succeeds A. E. Seymour, who recently resigned as assistant to the attorney general.

Woodlock's nomination was sent to the senate at the last session, but was not acted on.

McClinton's Death Blamed On Inoculation With Typhus Bacilli

FRAMEUP, ANSWER MADE BY GUARDIAN

State's Attorney Reveals Discovery of Alleged Corroborating Evidence

CHICAGO, March 18.

Attorneys for William D. Shepherd, charged with the murder of his ward, William McClinton, are ready to produce $500,000 bail for the release of their client, pending trial, Judge Jacob Hopkins was notified this afternoon. "This is not an ordinary case and we stand ready to put up bail up to $500,000," Attorney William Scott Stewart said. "We will enter a plea of not guilty Saturday." Stewart notified Judge Hopkins.

Formal indictments charging William D. Shepherd with murdering Billy McClinton, his millionaire orphan ward, were returned by the county grand jury today before Judge Jacob Hopkins in criminal court. The indictments also named Dr. Charles C. Fairman, president of the University of Sciences, as an accessory.

Shepherd and Dr. Fairman will not be arraigned until 2 p. m. when a motion for their release on a writ of habeas corpus will be disposed of. The accused now are held incommunicado in a loop hotel.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe said that, in view of the indictments, the motion would be overruled. He plans to fight releasing the men on bail.

McClinton, who died of typhoid fever, was inoculated with typhoid germs and with poisons.

Counts Are Summarized

Summary of some of the counts, prepared by Thomas Marshall, indictment expert for State's Attorney Crowe, follows:

"The defendants gave and administered typhoid bacilli."

"Did give and administer a certain deadly poison, description unknown."

"Did inoculate the body with a certain noxious, deadly and mortal fever known as typhoid fever."

"Did communicate to the body a fever known as typhoid fever."

"Did infuse, mix and mingle with food and drink certain typhoid bacilli or deadly poison."

"Did give and administer acetic and typhoid bacteria, which inoculated the body with a mortal fever."

"Did give and administer prussic acid and typhoid bacteria."

"Did give and administer morphine and typhoid bacteria."

"Did give and administer acetic acid, a deadly poison."

The balance of the counts cover other acts of the defendants, but in somewhat different verbiage.

Dr. Fairman, president of the National University of Sciences, who confessed that he was an accessory to the alleged murder plot by giving three tubes of germs to Shepherd, may be given a separate trial or may be co-defendant in the same.

Another link to the chain, which Crowe believes will send Shepherd to the gallows or a life in prison, was brought in by Sanford Olson, son of Chief Justice Harry Olson of the municipal court. Young Olson found a letter written on Fairman's stationery to a large firm of architects, asking about plans for a proposed new school building. Notes written on the margin of the letter by the architect showed that Fairman planned to spend $150,000 in erecting a school and hospital. Fairman confessed he was to receive $100,000 from Shepherd for his part in the plot.

Shepherd Receives News Calmly. Flanked by his two attorneys, William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, Shepherd received the news of the indictment with apparent calm. His face twinged a bit and he admitted a dislike for a jail cell, but he was quick to deny the formal charges against him. "It's all a frame-up," he said. "It's all a conspiracy to deprive me of the money which Billy would have given me. They're all a bunch of liars."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE ENTERS ON HIS FIRST ELECTION TERM UNDER EXTRAORDINARY AUSPICES.

Chosen practically without opposition—for most Democrats, hopeless of their own candidate, welcomed his success, and the third party was a consciously futile gesture—with the country prosperous and growing more so; with no bitter domestic issues and with foreign relations smoothing; with the good will and confidence of the nation and the world—the path before him is almost too smooth.

He is to be congratulated on his good fortune and welcomed to his great responsibility. May the "Coolidge luck" continue—and the fine character and ability which has always risen to its opportunities.

THIRTY-SIX years ago, Thomas B. Reed, William McKinley and Joseph C. Cannon were candidates before the Republican caucus for speaker of the fifty-first congress.

Reed was chosen, but every newspaper reader in America knew—and knows yet—the name of both the defeated candidates also. These were three of the half-dozen best-known men in the country.

It is no disparagement to Nicholas Longworth, speaker-designate, Martin Madden, his defeated opponent, and John Q. Tilson, chosen floor leader, to say that, whatever their abilities, their public reputation does not remotely approach that of these predecessors of long ago.

The quality of congress may or not have declined, but its prestige certainly has.

And yet, all three of these are men of really outstanding careers. Madden, chairman of the committee on appropriations, during the era of the establishment of the budget, has had the carrying out of policies which saved the nation billions.

Longworth, with a career of 20 years of leadership in congress, of undoubted ability and one of the most popular and genial of men, is probably known to thousands as a son-in-law where he is known to one as a personally distinguished friend.

Tilson, 44 years in congress, perhaps is most expert parliamentarian, a leader first in military and then in tariff legislation, is scarcely known at all.

These are our leaders; real ones and capable ones, too. But who knows them? Evidently, some thing has happened to congress, to hide its lights under a bushel.

Accuse Youths of Plotting to Extort Money

The messenger boy was young to be the latest converts against Erickson, who is said to have confessed to the plot.

Judge Bledsoe resigned in order to become a candidate for mayor of Los Angeles.

JURY EXONORATES DRIVER OF TRUCK WHICH KILLED GIRL STUDENT AT LAGUNA

Earl Pittman of Santa Ana, driver of the truck which Monday afternoon snuffed out the life of Marion G. Wood, 15-year-old high school girl at Laguna Beach, was exonerated from blame by a coroner's jury at an inquest held at Winbiger's Funeral home yesterday afternoon. The inquest was under direction of County Coroner Charles D. Brown.

Not one witness was produced at the inquest who could place any blame on Pittman. It was testified that he was the best driver in the employ of the Santa Ana Commercial company, that he had his heavy truck under control, and that he had sounded his horn in warning to the crowd of school children that had just been unloaded from the school bus. The evidence all pointed to the fact that Miss Wood failed to see the truck as she crossed the street directly in front of it, Coroner Brown said.

Laguna Beach witnesses at the inquest were A. B. Marshall, who represented the Wood family; George Griffith and James Evans, schoolmates of the deceased; Mrs. Philip Sheridan Weadock of Saginaw, Mich., who is passing the winter months in Laguna Beach; A. R. Burns, of Laguna Beach, and O. B. Davey.

Other witnesses were M. E. Condra, Tusin; Hal W. McCullough, manager of the Santa Ana Commercial company; Constable Jesse Elliott of Santa Ana, and Earl Pittman, the driver.

The body of Miss Wood was transferred from Winbiger's to the parlors of M. H. Simons and company in Riverside yesterday and the funeral was to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Among Laguna Beach residents who motored to Riverside to attend the funeral were James B. Neel, cashier of the Citizens' bank; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Marshall and their son, Robert, Postmaster and Mrs. Brayton S. Norton and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Pettis.

Is Green No More

"My experience with your medicine has been wonderful. My stomach and liver trouble of five years standing took a new turn two years ago when I took on an olive green complexion. I spent $1,200 with doctors and specialists only to prove that I was still as green as ever. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am green no more. My stomach and liver trouble has all disappeared. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

SARAH PADDEN TO APPEAR AT YOST THEATER

Sarah Padden, widely known star of the legitimate stage, will begin a three-day engagement at the Yost theater here tomorrow night in "The Eternal Barrier," a dramatic playlet in which she has just been headlined over the Orpheum circuit, according to an announcement today by Manager E. D. Yost. This will be Miss Padden's first appearance in Santa Ana.

Local theatergoers will recall Miss Padden's successes over the Orpheum, which included "The Clod," "The Charwoman," "Betty Behaves," and "The Accusation." She also starred in "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row," a comedy which afterwards was well received in pictures.

In "The Eternal Barrier," written by Tom Barry, there is only one character. All the action in the little story occurs in the mind of this character, played by Miss Padden. It is what she imagines as she sits alone, frightened and waiting to see how she will be received by her dead husband's relatives. A short piece of film is used to introduce the act and explain the nature of its offering.

Pretty Luncheon For Guests-Artists

One of Monday's pleasant affairs which was planned informally in connection with the arrival in this city of talented Los Angeles folk taking part in an Ebbl program, was the intimate little luncheon at the Arthur Lyon home on North Broadway.

Planned to honor Dr. Marian Tracie Whiting, monologist and reader whose programs broadcast over Los Angeles radios have won friends for her in every community, the luncheon also offered guest honors to two of Mrs. Lyon's nieces, Mrs. Herbert Soest and Mrs. Michael Thompson, who accompanied Dr. Whiting from Los Angeles, the former appearing with her on the Ebbl program later in the afternoon.

Charmingly centered with spring blossoms, the luncheon table presented a pretty sight. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, Dr. Whiting, Mrs. Soest, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Alice Harris, Mrs. Ella M. Parker and Miss Margaret Lyon. Just before the luncheon hour, Dr. Whiting added greatly to the enjoyment of her hosts and fellow guests by going over a group of the charming pianologues which she later gave at the Ebbl auditorium.

Mrs. Soest is the daughter of Mrs. Palmer while Mrs. Thompson is the daughter of Mrs. Harris. Both were happily greeted by many old friends during the afternoon.

Ebbl Travelers

A most enjoyable day was spent by the second Travel section of Ebbl society recently when the members were offered a friendly greeting by Mrs. E. C. Nelson at her Hickory street home. Each member added one prepared dish to a delectable surprise menu of the luncheon which was served amid attractive St. Patrick surroundings.

Mrs. Cora Wheeler was welcomed to membership while Mrs. J. L. Walker was greeted as a section guest. In the afternoon an extremely interesting program featured the "Irish Lullaby" sweetly sung by Mrs. Mit Phillips who followed it with an equally lovely number, "Butterfly Time."

Mrs. George Reyburn gave a very interesting account of the hobby of St. Francis, the study of birds, their habits and characteristics. Mrs. C. E. French chaperoned the section on a tour to Marcellus and cited its countless points of interest, illustrating her talk by references to the National Geographic magazine. Mrs. Theo. A. Winbiger then took the tour in charge, and aided by recent letters from her husband, T. A. Winbiger who is enjoying a round the world tour, piloted the group to Honolulu, thence to Japan and China and finally to Egypt.

HOW MUCH MILK?

up to 14 years

Because children who were apparently well fed were not normal in weight and health, the question of food values arose in the minds of the people. Careful investigation proved that a diet without plenty of milk failed to nourish properly. In thousands of tests it has been proved that a quart of milk per day is necessary and beneficial as well as economical.

—a pint a day
for adults

When teeth break down and a tired sense takes hold of you, the cause is, no doubt, the failure to assimilate the food you are eating. Milk is easily digested, has no refuse and will build up rapidly. A pint a day will help. More is better.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

HARD-BOILED HATS
The English have a venerable proverb, "A slouch hat—a slouchy appearance." This saying originated long before the soft felt hat had gained its almost universal vogue; when it was still looked upon as designed for field and travel only. Since that time, the slouch, or crush, or tourist, or Alpine, or soft hat—it is known all these names—has acquired a certain measure of dignity and propriety for everyday wear, quite eclipsing the good old derby as it is called in this country; the "bowler" as it is termed in London and the "hard-boiled" hat as it is derided by its traducers.
There is little use in trying to stem the tide of popular opinion.
The hard-headed American prefers the soft hat, and that's that.
Be good enough to observe that I said "popular opinion," for the best-dressed men in metropolitan centers are again taking up at any time during the last twenty years. There is a valid reason for this. A less easy-going spirit rules men's clothes. Wing collars, starch-bosom shirts and single suits have been revived.
Black shoes are returning to favor. Golf suits have been banished to the links and the country club where they belong. The smartest top coats trace the figure. Bow-knot ties are again being worn.
Many of us have tired of the softness, even "sloppiness," of present-day dress and decline to make creature comfort our sole creed.
The derby hat shares in this preference for a more formal type of lounge and business clothes.
The present writer well knows that he would be drilling against granite with a point of putty were he to attempt to popularize the derby. Nevertheless, it is indisputable that this style has a well-defined place and purpose in a man's wardrobe that none other can fill. It is pre-eminently the hat of the professional man and the higher type of business man whose mode of dress should express dignity, substantiality and some degree of formality. Furthermore, the derby affords a most agreeable change-off from the omnipresent soft hat, which, worn every day, becomes characterless and monotonous.
There is no such thing as "a derby face" or "a soft hat face".
That impression is pure imagination. Every man can find a type of derby which is becoming to him if he will only take the trouble to look around and try on different shapes and proportions. For crown and rolled brim may not be precisely the hat that looks well on you, but there are dozens of other blocks to choose from.
Without possessing at least one derby you are not correctly hatted for every occasion and, thus, you are not in the fullest sense well-dressed.

REPORT THEFTS
FROM GARAGES
IN SANTA ANA

With eight garage robberies in the last two nights, Santa Ana police today are concentrating their efforts in an effort to apprehend the marauders.

Last night, four garages were reported to have been entered, and at least three other places have been visited by thieves, according to reports from unofficial sources.
Tools, accessories and clothing stored in the garages are among the articles taken.

J. R. Ball, 522 East Chestnut street, last night watched a man enter two garages in his neighborhood. He called the police, but before they arrived on the scene, the man had disappeared. A description of the marauder was obtained however, and police expect to make an arrest.

Police are of the opinion that boys are committing most of the crimes, although a man wearing an old overcoat is said to be responsible for a number of the burglaries.

The garage of C. L. Young, 906
South Main street, was entered last night and clothes were scattered on the floor. Fishing tackle and tools were reported stolen.

Everett Corneli, 122 East Edinger street, reported to police early today that his garage was entered last night and the wind wings removed from his car.

George Shoenberger is another victim of the garage burglar. His place was entered Monday night, and a typewriter was stolen. A green visor was removed from his automobile and several tools were taken.

A woman's gold watch was stolen from a desk in the office of Mrs. J. S. McCarty, 211 Ramona building, by a burglar who gained entrance into the office through the transom over the door, a report to the city police stated yesterday.

P. E. O.

A Review of the New

Spring to Southern California means a new fashion season. Women have been earnestly seeking glimpses of Spring's best wearables for several weeks.
How does the little frock of cloth come by its wealth of chic? Which is the Spring wraps favorite turn and just what is this new "ensemble" Paris has been promising? It is a long tale of plaits, godets and tucks and things; buttons, lace and soft colorings; and Rankin's is ready to accommodate you with a full review of the new—beginning tomorrow—Thursday, Friday, Saturday.
A cordial invitation goes out to everybody!

Conde Coats

Fashion facts about wraps are completely told in the showing of the Conde Coats you may view here tomorrow. They are amply supplemented by models from the Printzess shops and others. Coats developed in kasha and softly colored woollens are fashion-important. The sports mode is in the lead, though there are plenty of dressy coats to be seen.

Ensembles

This is not the Ensemble's debut season, but it bids to be its most successful. Wrap and frock costumes in Kasha, flannels, twills and printed silks, smart costume company this spring. Among the new Ensembles are many distinctive models created by Irene Castle for her personal wear.

Irene Castle

For the first time, our showing of Frocks will represent the individual creations of Irene Castle for Spring.
They are easily among the notables in the displays you will view here tomorrow. New notes show the inverted plait, the shirred insertion, the side godet and the flowing cascade, as many frocks of the fashion-honored kasha, cashmere twill or fine crepes will.

Accessories

Be sure to see the suede pull-on gloves that match, in care-free air, the topcoats of spring; the newest shoulder flowers; the bead chokers;
the brilliant handbags of leather. In fact, after all is seen and some is bought, there are yet the Accessories to consider. Let them be right.

Woolens and Silks on Fashion's Slate

Needlewomen's fingers shall feel beneath them swanky boyish frocks and filmy girlish dresses replete with smartness when they touch these Fabrics of spring. Satins beam gay colors. Hand blocked prints are among the most beautiful.
Woolens take to great softness and pastels.

OAKLAND LINE AGENCY TAKEN BY CADILLAC

The announcement that the Cadillac Garage company is to represent the Oakland line of automobiles in the Santa Ana territory comes as a distinct surprise.

For more than eleven years the Cadillac Garage company has been an important factor in the motor car industry of the community, handling during that time the Cadillac line of cars. The company is known to almost every motorist in Orange county.

At the head of the Cadillac Garage company is Otto R. Haan. His prime policy in business is to render a service that keeps the owner satisfied and upon that foundation he has guided his business to a well earned success.

In deciding to take on the Oakland line in addition to the Cadillac line of cars Haan says that the recent rise to the forefront of popularity by the Oakland indicates to him that this is a car that must have satisfied the buyer and offer wide possibilities for a greater sale. He said:

Haan Makes Statement
"Realizing the greatest demand by the purchasers of popular priced cars is for a six cylinder product, I have investigated each individual make of car. I have talked with owners, with dealers and with competitors and upon the findings of this investigation, I decided that the Oakland was the most outstanding value in its field. "No other make of car near its price includes all the advanced engineering features that are embodied in the Oakland. Oakland pioneered and proved that mechanical four-wheel brakes were the most efficient dependable type. The Ricardo type combustion chamber was introduced by Oakland. Honed cylinders and bronze backed Chadwick bearings also were first offered among popular priced cars by Oakland."

Introduces Centralized Control
"Centralized control was introduced by Oakland and Duco finish on all models and permanent tops are features that the Oakland gets credit for bringing out, in fact a year and more ago, the 6-54 model was introduced as the 'Year Ahead Car' and the development of facts proved the truth of this statement."

"An indication of the success of the Oakland is found in the sales records of cars in 1924 as compared with 1923. While the total sales of cars in California for 1923 fell 28 per cent in 1924, the Oakland increased its volume by 42 per cent in the same period. It was one of four makes of popular motor cars to register an increase. This in itself is definite and conclusive proof of the proven value offered in this car."

"We will maintain a complete service department for the Oakland and all models will be on display in our showrooms. The same policies that govern our service department in the past will be continued and I can assure every Oakland and Cadillac owner of complete satisfaction. By handling two products of General Motors, I feel that I am offering the people of Santa Ana the best values among motor cars."

Many Guests Gather For Smart Affair At St. Ann's

Essentially spring-like in all details of serving, decoration and card games was the luncheon with which Mrs. Horatio Clement Dawes and Mrs. Elmer Barry Burns recognized the St. Patrick season yesterday at St. Ann's Inn where smartly gowned women took possession of foyer and dining-room shortly after 1 o'clock.

Arrivals were extended friendly greetings by their hostesses, Mrs. Dawes in midnight blue pleated crepe over a brilliantly figured printed silk and with a hat repeating the lovely colors of the gown, and Mrs. Burns in a creation of braided gray flat crepe with orchid hat and a close-fitting neck strand of orchid pearls, the lovely tints of which were repeated in bracelets and rings.

When way was led to the dining-room the tables disclosed the appropriate greens of the Emerald Isle, since they were each centered with tall green tapers in crystal candlesticks each of which bore a bow of green tulle. Small cups of fluted green petals filled with wee green candies were at each place and the menu as far as possible sounded the same vernal color note with the sweets course offering green feed cake and shamrock centered ices.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, guests were asked to return to the lobby and were given Irish harp tally cards from baskets adorned with flaring green bows, by a group of assistant hostesses including Mrs. Frank Charles Armin, daughter of Mrs. Burns, Miss Roberta Dawes, daughter of Mrs. Dawes and Miss Viola Burgess of Los Angeles with whom Miss Dawes has been spending the past few weeks, the two driving down from the city yesterday to be present at the party. Each one of the assistant hostesses recognized the Irish holiday by wearing a green camelia blossom on the shoulder of her pretty afternoon gown, thus adding to the colorful effect of the function.

Card tables were arranged with covers in all the bright tints of spring and other tables scattered throughout the big room bore baskets of unusually beautiful flowers, irises, freesias, ranunculus, narcissus and "daffy-down-dillies" like the breath of spring itself.

With the close of the afternoon of bridge, one table was heaped with packages all tied with green tissue and ribbons, and prizes were awarded Mrs. J. M. Bartholomew whose high score won an exquisitely shaded French lamp, Mrs. Ernest Winkler second high who received an equally beautiful china candy or pot-pourri jar in soft lavender tints, Mrs. Tubbs of Pasadena whose consolation gift was a crystal vase with pattern in gold filigree while the fortunate one scoring high at each table received the daintiest of little vanities swinging from a beaded cord. Similar vanities were presented each of the young assisting hostesses.

These fortunate folk were Mesdames A. G. Flagg, Charles Spicer, Clarence Gustlin, Roy Hall, Walter Vandermast, J. P. Baumgartner, Tarter, Montgomery, Angus J. Crookshank, J. F. Landis, Brown, John E. Girven, William E. Otis, Walter Finch and Miss Gertrude Montgomery.

Out of town guests who were present at the function were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Curtis Jordan, Long Beach; Mrs. A. C. Tubbs, Miss Frances Blatenburg, Mrs. Russell Scott, Pasadena; Mrs. Sproull, Mrs. McKennie Brown, Mrs. Lincoln Carden, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Miss Viola Burgess, Los Angeles; Mrs. Harold William Wickett, Mrs. Walter Finch, Mrs. Mark Menges, Mrs. F. C. Krause, Mrs. Howard Krause, Fullerton; Mrs. Walker and Miss Walker, Hemet; Mrs. Dan Casey, Mrs. John Adams, Orange, and Miss Minnie Bunker of Oakland.

Dinner Hour Changed At Country Club

Deciding that an 8 o'clock dinner hour would interfere with the complete pleasure of an evening of dancing, the social committee of the Country Club today announced that the hour would be advanced to 7 o'clock at tomorrow night's dinner dance at the club.

The affair will be guest night and members are asked to make reservations at once for themselves and the guests they may wish to include in their parties by calling the manager, Mr. Roller at 8716 R 5.

Bridal Gift Shower Planned to Honor Newly-Weds

Following close upon the heels of the announcement of their wedding was the attractive party given last night for the youthful Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jefferson Hosea by Mrs. and Mrs. David Meyer at the latter's South Broadway home.

Since the affair was held on St. Patrick's day, the decorative effect of massed white carnations and white sweet-peas surrounded by graceful greenery, was both charming and appropriate. The motif was stressed in all details of the evening and when refreshments were served at the close of an interesting session of Rook, the card tables were centered with green baskets filled with salted nuts. A delicious fruit salad, cup cakes iced with green marshmallow cookies also bearing St. Patrick symbols and coffee formed the refreshment menu.

Mrs. Paul Johnson (Mrs. Mande Lash) herself a recent bride, entered into details of the entertaining with much interest and assisted Mrs. Meyer in all hostess duties. She also helped plan the supreme event of the evening when the bride-honoree was presented a "hidden treasure."

This card was but the beginning, for every place visited in following its directions, disclosed a similar one with totally new directions. Search finally led to the mailbox and while Mrs. Hosea was absent from the room, a great basket filled with lovely gifts was placed in the center of the living room to greet her return. Her examination of the many beautiful articles of silver, linen and crystal gave an enjoyment to the guests.

The little bride made a very charming picture in a smart frock of yellow Canton crepe with touches of green and with stockings to harmonize worn with black satin slippers.

Greeting her and her young husband were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Overton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosea, the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. David Meyer, Messrs. and Mesdames Paul Johnson, Charles L. Johnson, C. F. Skirvin, A. V. Napier and T. P. Kingrey, Miss Alma Sauck, a niece of the hostess and Miss Myrtle Meyer a niece of the host; Miss Lillian Napier, Vincent Hosea and James Lash.

The marriage of Mr. Hosea Jr. and Miss Dorothy Overton was a surprise event of Wednesday, March 11 at Riverside.

Young Musician On Church Program

Friends of the R. R. Miles family were deeply interested in the announcement made today that Raymond Kendall of Pasadena, the 14-year-old grandson of Mr. Miles, and a very talented youth indeed, would appear on the musical program at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night at 7 o'clock.

The young pianist who is a pupil of Earl Fraser of this city and who attracted so much interest when appearing on the program of Mr. Fraser's pupil recitals, will give a big number in the Grieg A. Minor Concerto of which he will give the first movement.

Supplementing his performance will be the symphony orchestra part of the concerto which Miss Ruth Armstrong has arranged for the pipe-organ. The whole promises a rare musical event and will undoubtedly attract many music-lovers to the evening services at the church.

St. Patrick Features In Decorations For Bridge Luncheon

Waxed magnolia leaves formed the correct Irish background for the massed apple-blossoms which Mrs. Robert Reid and Mrs. Joseph Parsons used so effectively in their St. Patrick's decorative scheme for a bridge luncheon presented yesterday at the Country club.

Two long tables were arranged in the dining-room for the serving of the most enjoyable menu of four courses with the shamrock motif used in place of cards and other table appointments. Following the luncheon hour the guests were assembled around card tables in informal grouping about the friendly hearth of the lounge.

Mrs. John Tubbs and Mrs. Horace Stevens aided in such pleasant hostess duties as distribution of the shamrock score cards and presentation of the attractive gifts for those making special scores.

All gifts were in harmony with the day, a set of exquisitely frosted lemonade glasses and pitcher falling to the fortunate lot of Mrs. George S. Briggs, scoring high while a handsome green silk umbrella was given Mrs. Edward McWilliams, with second high and a tall St. John's lily in a gaily decorated jar was ample consolation to Mrs. Frank Miller for an afternoon's run of poor luck at cards.

Scots Plan Enjoyable Dance

It has been claimed that of all Masonic dances, those given at intervals by the Scots at their meeting place, El Camino hall, are the liveliest and most enjoyable. In fact so much has been said about them that non-Masons have often expressed a wish that they might have an opportunity of attending one.

So in response to that wish the Scots are presenting a typical dancing party next Wednesday night when a social committee will direct the gayeties of the evening. Members of this committee are Messrs N. E. Mayhill, Carl E. Carlson, H. C. Collins, C. Russell, Dr. Ernest G. Motley, Ray Wyckoff, Henry Walters, Walter Wright, William Jennings, R. H. Baldwin, Bryant L. Brasfield and La Bard.

They have planned a few surprise features for an informal program which will break the dancing at intervals. Tickets placed at a nominal sum, are going like the proverbial hot cake, it was declared last night at the exceedingly enjoyable dance and card party given by the combined Masonic lodges and chapters at the temple.

An unusually large crowd was out last night to enjoy the March edition of the party which Masonry presents at intervals for the pleasure of its womenkind. Chapman's orchestra, without which a Masonic dance would scarcely seem natural, gave such a program as is warranted to set even Quaker heels a-tinkling, and that even attracted the card players in the chapter room to the third floor where they too joined in the amusement after the card session was ended and attractive pottery vases given as prizes.

Cool and delicious green punch and wringing green snakes were highly suggestive of the Irish holiday being celebrated, and formed the refreshments of the evening.

Junior College Folk Enjoy Gayety of Dancing Party

One of the most successful and enjoyable social functions of the college year was a St. Patrick's dancing party which the women's organization of Santa Ana Junior college Monday night tendered in compliment to the fellow-organization among Junior college men, at the gymnasium of the high school group.

White blossoms and graceful sprays of greenery transformed the sober gym into a most festive spot where the young people to the number of nearly a hundred, gathered under the chaperonage of Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women, Miss Mary Harris and Miss Mabel Whiting, all of the faculty.

Chapman's orchestra in a well-balanced program of dance music, won the whole-hearted approval of the lively young people who enjoyed a series of special favor dances. Especially gay was the elimination feature in which honorees went to Miss Mabel Franzen, dancing with Jack Langley. The refreshment hour yielded especially attractive favors to the floors of the honored group with Miss Katherine McMullen, president of the college women, presiding. Associated with her in planning the party and devising clever ways of entertaining were Miss Dora McWaters, vice-president, Miss Louane Leech, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Northcross, dean of women.

Missionary Society

The Doris Welles auxiliary of the First M. E. church met at the home of Miss Lillian Flyn on Monday evening when Miss Davidson conducted the devotional service in a helpful and impressive way.

The business session was full of interest. Plans were made to have each succeeding meeting a show for the missionary Christmas boxes to be sent out late in the summer.

The lesson from the study book "Ming Kwong" have been very interesting. It is an intensive study of one composite city of China, going back to the very beginning and coming down to the present day. Miss Dorothy Hurd presented Chapter IV in an entertaining and capable manner.

The hostess assisted by Miss Margaret Grant and Miss Mary Coffman served dainty refreshments. About twenty-five members and visitors were present.

Many Anniversaries Are Celebrated at The Briney Home

The home of P. L. Briney at 626 North Ross street, was the scene of a pleasant reunion last Sunday when twenty-eight relatives met to celebrate several anniversaries occurring during the present month, the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Briney, and Mr. and Mrs. Perry G. Briney of Torrance, and the birth-day anniversaries of Mrs. Louise Miller, Mrs. P. L. Briney, Perry G. Briney, Bertha Briney and Mrs. Briney's brother, Dr. U. S. Means.

A four-course chicken dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock, the last course including a large white cake in the shape of a bell, baked by Mabel Briney Johannessen. This was cut by the bride of forty-five years ago, Mrs. P. L. Briney. The two long tables were each centered with a bowl of jonquills and at each place was an old fashioned boutonniere. The rooms were charmingly decorated with ranunculus, freesias, a potted Easter lily, and other spring flowers, all presented by friends and guests. Mr. and Mrs. Briney were also the recipients of a number of beautiful and useful gifts.

Perry G. Briney acted as toast-master. Mrs. Johannessen gave appropriate readings by Edgar A. Guest, and Mr. Johannessen sang "Mother Machree." Those present besides the honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Briney, Tex.; Hazel and Max Briney, Elaine and Wallace Briney, the small daughter and son of P. G. Briney of Torrance; Mr. J. D. Dufferter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Good, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Burney of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. M. Couley of Montebello, Mrs. Elizabeth Harmon and Miss Olive Dufferter of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. I will not recommend you to rub your body with almond cream or wear reducing girdles or garments, as I KNOW THEY ARE ABSOLUTELY WORTHLESS. I am giving you here the secret I found out in Paris and which is the most marvelous discovery ever made to easily and safely take off fat. I suffered for years with all the troubles well known to fat people—time after time, I deprived myself from all pleasures—bathing, dancing, riding or going, because of my ridiculously fat figure. I turned parties and friends to avoid the dreaded "Here comes fatty," until one day, after I had tried everything known to reduce and failed, I hit upon the secret with which I made myself over. It is called SAN-GRI-NA. The discovery of

A French scientist who has solved the problem of obesity, SAN-GRI-NA is put up in small tasteless tablets. You take two before each meal and watch your weight go down. With this simple, easy, marvelous new way, I reduced from 180 to 130 pounds in eight weeks and have never regained since. The reducing is gradual and easy—did not leave me lanky or wrinkled—each every pound of fat lost, I felt a steady increase in strength and vitality. Now my health is splendid and I look and feel years younger. SAN-GRI-NA is guaranteed absolutely harmless, and is sold with money-back guarantee. Nothing like SAN-GRI-NA was ever before offered to you.

NOTE: Since I have given out this wonderful secret to the American public, the demand has been so tremendous, that every good drug store is supplied with SAN-GRI-NA. Get your package to-day, and watch your fat disappear.

REPORT TELLS OF ACTIVITIES AND 'Y' PLANS

Reviewing the various activities and accomplishments of the educational committee of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. and outlining new enterprises for the coming year, is a report prepared by Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the association, which was submitted today to the board of directors.

The activities set forth in the review have been directed by J. P. Baumgartner, chairman of the educational committee, assisted by the personnel of the committee and the staff officers of the association.

Activities during the year are detailed in Smedley's report as follows: The Toastmasters' club, organized on October 22, has held 15 meetings. Forty-three different men have been on the list of members for a longer or shorter period. The total attendance for the 15 meetings has been 355. About 80 speeches have been made by the members. A textbook has been studied, the members taking turns at conducting the studies. The club appears to be well established for permanence.

Aid Thrift Move
National Thrift Week was observed locally under the leadership of this committee. By means of newspaper publicity, posters, and speeches, the message of thrift was carried to thousands of people.

A class in Spanish, taught by Mrs. O. Rodriguez, had an enrollment of seven members, who carried through a course of ten lessons with apparent profit and satisfaction.

Success Week presented a fine series of character building, personality development lectures, given by Mr. Carlson. The attendance averaged a little over 100 a night for five nights. The general effect was excellent.

A course in salesmanship was organized, following the Success Week, 38 students were enrolled. Eight of the lessons have already been given, with two more to complete the course.

Pay Own Way
All of these activities have paid their own way, so that no financial burden has been placed on the association by them. The salesmanship course will probably show a small profit, after paying the teacher and the advertising bills.

Prospects under consideration are: Spring courses: Following the end of the Salesmanship course, and taking advantage of the after-Easter slowing up of social and other activities, we might be able to promote some spring courses of classwork or club work appropriate to the season. A course in picture taking is usually popular in the spring. Talks on camping out, on attractive vacation trips, on points of interest in our own locality, might be worth while. It has been proposed that a memory training course be put on after Easter. The salesmanship students would like it, and there would probably be a considerable number of others who would enter such a class. I am prepared to lead the class, and would suggest that any income from class fees might be turned into the work of this committee for special purposes.

Night School Idea
Night School: There is a question whether Santa Ana needs a more or less completely organized night school. If so, should the association undertake to offer the courses, or would we do better to offer our cooperation to the board of education in connection with a school to be promoted in the public school buildings?

One of the primary problems to be met by our association is the popularizing of our lobby. While much of this responsibility falls on the social committee, who must see to promoting features that will help to socialize our members and provide the fellowship which is essential, the educational committee should cooperate in furnishing ideas and speakers for informal talks and lectures on popular and profitable subjects in the lobby, to help attract people to the place.

Need Lobby Equipment
Certain equipment is very much needed in the lobby, which will aid in promoting the educational activities. We should have at once a small supply of the better magazines and papers coming regularly to the lobby. We should have, also, a rack for magazines and a rack for newspapers. In addition,

San Pedro Home Wrecked as Gas Explodes, 2 Hurt

SAN PEDRO, March 18.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Berin were recovering today from a "big blow-out" at their home here. Leaks from a gas main under the house caused an explosion which blew out the walls of the house. Windows in houses a block distant were shattered, and fire followed the blast. Mr. and Mrs. Berin were treated at Emergency hospital for shock and burns.

we need a large library table for the lobby.

In view of the success of the Toastmasters' club and the Salesmanship class, we may feel encouraged to seek for other lines of study which will interest our men, as we look forward to next season's program. We ought to be ready by the middle of the summer with a pretty well defined program for the work beginning in October.

As an immediate activity, it is suggested the committee get back of the proposition to offer the course in Memory training. There is enough interest in the subject to warrant us in expecting a good enrollment, and I am willing to assure the delivery of the course. Such a course can be run through in a little over one week, and thus it would be possible to carry through two or three classes if there were a demand this spring.

POSTPONE PROBE IN ACID ATTACK

BEVERLY HILLS, March 18.—Preliminary hearing of Mrs. Bernice L. Day on a charge of mutilating with acid the face of her husband, Darby Day Jr., scion of a wealthy Chicago family, has been continued until next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, District Attorneys intimated, the case will be taken before the grand jury.

Mrs. Day is accused of throwing acid in her husband's face during a quarrel. She claims the acid shower, which cost Day loss of his sight in one eye, was an accident.

Minter Counsel To Appeal $1000 Award to Maid

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—Attorneys for Mary Miles Minter prepared today to appeal from the decision of a jury which awarded Katherine Harliby, former domestic, damages of $1000 from the former film star.

Miss Harliby was favored by the jurors 9 to 3, and allowed $1000 for false and malicious arrest. Miss Minter had caused the maid's arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace, and through a deposition contended the arrest was justified.

Although 90 years of age, Mrs. Eve Cary continues to operate the family farm of 40 acres near Hillsboro, Ohio, doing nearly all of the work herself.

FULL GOSPEL EVANGELIST TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

A series of evangelistic meetings will be conducted at the church of the Full Gospel assembly, corner of Sixth and French streets, by Evangelist A. E. Stuenkel, beginning this evening and concluding March 29, it was announced today by the pastor of the church, the Rev. E. V. Jennison. The Rev. Mr. Stuenkel will speak this evening on "Conditions of a Mighty Revival."

In announcing the series of sermons, the Rev. Mr. Jennison added: "We wish to offer the people of the city and community an opportunity to co-operate with us in every possible way in the present campaign. The evangelist is in no sense sectarian, but comes with a pointed, practical message, which I think should prove a rich and lasting blessing, not only to our church, but to many outside our fellowship. Nothing would be more helpful and uplifting to Santa Ana than a genuine old-fashioned revival."

The Rev. Mr. Jennison said the following were among the topics upon which Evangelist Stuenkel would preach during the series of meetings: "The Necessity and Nature of the New Birth," "God's Way of Healing," "The Indwelling Holy Spirit," "The Purpose of Christ's Coming Again," "Crossing the Deadline," and "The Worst Thief in the World."

Mrs. Eva Caton Jennison, wife of the Full Gospel assembly pastor, will offer special vocal numbers at each service.

BOMB CHARGED WITH RECKLESS DRIVING HERE

City Recorder J. F. Talbott today signed a complaint charging William Bomb, said to be a millionaire of Beverly Hills, with reckless driving. Bomb had previously deposited a $50 cash bond for his appearance when wanted.

While driving on West Second street Saturday night, Bomb's automobile crashed into two cars in front of the Grand Central market. The complaint followed but it was not signed and no warrant was issued because of absence of an officiating recorder.

Otto Haan, president and manager of the Cadillac Garage company, today explained that Bomb was not an acquaintance. Bomb's appearance at the Haan home following the accident Saturday evening was the result of a call for two-car service, he said. D. B. Clark, sales manager for Don Lee in Los Angeles, who was following the Bomb car and who is a personal friend of Bomb, drove Bomb to the Haan home to arrange for a tow car for one of the cars damaged by Bomb. Haan said Clark and his wife drove from Los Angeles to be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Haan.

Immediately following the accident, Bomb and his wife drove back to their home at Beverly Hills. They were enroute to San Diego.

The First National Owes to Depositors Payable on Demand

WHEN A BANK accepts a deposit, it agrees to repay the money instantly when the depositor asks for it. What heavier obligation could be laid upon a banker, what requirement calculated to make him more scrupulously careful of what he does with the money entrusted to him?

For deposits cannot be idle in the vaults. They must be put to work for the good of the community in the shape of loans to merchants and manufacturers, investment in bonds of sound corporations, real estate mortgages and Government loans.

If banks refused to lend and invest, the wheels of industry would come to a full stop.

So, in order to lend money and at the same time have it available for depositors, the First National must have strong reserves of cash and of securities upon which cash can be immediately raised, plus its other assets and especially its surplus of assets over what it owes to depositors.

A bank thus situated is able to render the type of modern service you find at the First National.

COMMITTEE ON CITY CHARTER IS NAMED BY EXCHANGE CLUB

Former San Jose Man Leads In Movement For Commission Form

PUSH CAMPAIGN ON UNNECESSARY LAWS

Trend of Public Opinion Is Said to Favor Less Laws, Better Enforcement

Stanley Clem, Charles D. Swanner and George K. Scovel were appointed yesterday by the Santa Ana Exchange club as a committee to make investigations with reference to the advisability of a movement to put over a charter in Santa Ana.

The action followed a discussion on charters by Dr. Frank H. Paterson, formerly a resident of San Jose, where he was instrumental in having a commission form of government adopted a few years ago.

Dr. Paterson said he had not been a resident of Santa Ana long enough to know just what was needed here and therefore refrained from making any suggestion as to what type of charter should be offered.

He recounted the institution of the commission form of government at Galveston at the time of the big flood and what was accomplished there by a commission.

San Jose Manager Success

Discussing the charter at San Jose and the employment of a manager, the speaker said that administration by a manager had been successful, and that because of confidence in the business management paving work and bonding propositions had been put over in large numbers.

"Politics can be avoided only through an informed and intelligent citizenship," Dr. Paterson said in stressing the point that complete elimination of politics in city affairs is virtually impossible.

Stating that he had observed the work of the Santa Ana city council, the speaker said that the personnel of the board seemed to be of the highest type, and he declared this, perhaps, was the reason for the successful administration of affairs under an obsolete state charter.

Clem had arranged for the discussion on the charter, having announced at the last meeting of the club that it was his ambition.

REVUE GIRLS TO ENTERTAIN AT LOCAL AUTOMOBILE SHOW

Hazel Boyd, the fast-stepping, laugh maker with the Revue Girls who will furnish entertainment at the automobile show opening here Saturday evening, in the big tent at the corner of Second and Spurgeon streets.

Attractive Programs to Be Staged Nightly In Pavilion

A program of ten numbers each evening will be an additional attraction at the automobile show opening here Saturday night, at Spurgeon and Second streets, under the auspices of the Orange County Automobile Trades association. The Revue Girls, trained entertainers, will provide most of the entertainment, scheduled for 9 o'clock each evening.

The management is anticipating an attendance through the week in excess of 40,000 persons. The nominal sum of 10 cents has been placed as the entrance fee, and the entertainment in itself will be effective in attracting a large number of persons each evening.

The display of automobiles and accessories will be an additional magnet to draw the crowd. Dealers of the city co-operating fully in plans to make the display here superior to any automobile show held here in previous years.

The "big top" was in position today and it was expected that tonight exhibitors would initiate the work of preparing booths. There is a spirit of harmony and good will that augurs well for the show.

Attractively planned and artistically decorated, the great tent pavilion will take on the appearance of a permanent exposition.

PREPARE FINE PROGRAM FOR Y. M. C. A. SHOW

Circus Will Be Staged Next Week By Athletes and Other Performers

The circus is coming to town! In eager anticipation of a real treat, kiddies and grown-ups are making plans to attend the first annual Y. M. C. A. indoor circus to be staged next week in the gymnasium of the association building.

Although listed as an "indoor event," the program prepared for the occasion promises a grand aggregation of amusement and side-splitting stunts.

True to the time-honored traditions of the canvas top and the sawdust ring, there will be a circus band and the other proverbial features. There will be no lack of sawdust, and the crowds will be entertained between acts by Barker telling about the strange sights in the sideshows. A circus show would not be complete without pink lemonade and popcorn, of which commodities there will be an ample supply.

Sideshowes 'N' everything. It goes without saying that the sideshow includes strange and curious people. Among these are Patima, the fat princess from Constantinople; the wild man from Borneo—the first ever held in captivity; the skinny man who took the reducing treatment; the tattooed baby; the leopard girl; and what not, including the "sacred cow."

According to R. R. Russick, physical director, more than 100 persons, men and boys, women and girls, will participate in this great exhibition of achievement in physical culture, putting on a program which will not only demonstrate many of the interesting methods of recreation and health culture taught by the Y. M. C. A., but offering also an hour and a half of the finest kind of fun and entertainment.

A program has been arranged which will present representatives of practically all of the classes in drills, contests, games, gymnastics and other exhibition work, of great variety and of the most popular interest.

The detailed list of events as given out by Russick follows:

1. The grand entrance, introducing the entire company of performers.
2. The Anvil Chorus, an artistic creation with dumb-bells, by members of the Pioneers, Comrades and Senior classes.
3. Crossing the Bar, a daring display on the high bar, by a squad of senior class men.
4. The Jumping Jacks, an eccentric drill by girls from the Tuesday afternoon classes.
5. Roaming on the Rings, by men from the senior class.
6. The Stumbling Brothers, in a series of tumbling stunts.
7. Between the Bars, graceful gymnastics by senior class men.
8. The Trained Elephant, put through his paces by a squad of Comrades.
9. The Lark of the Lightning Bug, by Prof. I. C. Swinger.
10. Alphabetical Antics, an artistic drill by ladies from the Business Women's Gymnasium class.
11. The Association Blues, a Daktown Division, by ladies from the Tuesday morning class.
12. The Grand Finale, introducing the Pyramid Posers, the Ladies on Ladders, and a multitude of startling sensations.

Clowns Will Romp. A troupe of twenty clever clowns will romp through the show, making fun for all while the performers present their acts. Some of the best men in the gymnasium class will serve as clowns.

HIGH PRAISE IS ACCORDED 'TO THE LADIES,' DRAMATIC PRODUCTION TO BE PRESENTED BY UPPERCLASSMEN AT HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY

Here are the members of cast of the senior play "To the Ladies" which is to be presented at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock in what is considered the biggest event of the year in school dramatics. From left to right they are Emil Foust, Harold Fish, Miss Madeleine Mease, Miss Mary Roberts, Don Dearth, Miss Lizzetta Phillips, Walter Wurster, Miss Josephine Courtney, Warren Hamilton, Miss Joy Helen Smith, Lebbins Metzgar, and Raymond Grist.

CREDIT BUREAU MEET APPROVES BAD CHECK LAW

Resolutions favoring certain bills pending in the state legislature, and opposing others, were adopted at the regular meeting of the California Association of Retail Credit Bureaus held in Pomona last Saturday, according to word brought back by D. H. Betten, secretary and manager of the Orange County Credit Association, who attended the sessions.

Included among measures endorsed is the amended "bad check law" to prevent the passing of "not sufficient funds" checks. This law will be a great protection to every merchant in the city, Betten explained, as it provides that the check itself will become prima facie evidence.

Another measure receiving unanimous support is the new divorce bill, preventing a wife from loading up on her husband from whom she is contemplating divorce, and further preventing the court from issuing a final decree until all claims of husband and wife are settled.

Merchants All Favor. These two bills have the support of every merchant in California, and there is every indication that they will pass during this session of the legislature, Betten intimated.

Determined opposition was voiced to the Lyon's slander bill, prohibiting the issuing and transmission of information that may be unfavorable to an individual.

If his bill were enacted into law, its provisions would automatically suspend the general information service of all credit bureaus and all other private agencies collecting information on individuals.

Oppose Lien Change. Objection was also recorded to several bills amending the present lien law, which would exempt private automobiles in collection proceedings.

The business session was adjourned at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, following which the delegates were taken out on a short sight-seeing trip. The evening banquet was held at the Aris hotel, at which President William Loefer presided. Sacramento was voted as the next meeting place.

'Rube Day' to Be Observed at S. A. School Tomorrow

"Rube day" will be held tomorrow at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school.

Students dressed in fantastic costumes are to make the day one of merriment about the campus.

Teachers, too, are invited to participate by donning "old duds" in the "rube" spirit.

Responsibility for the students has been assumed by Victor Walker, student body president. Special events have been scheduled for the day.

At assembly, students with the best costumes are to parade across the stage. "Rube" music will be furnished on the assembly program. James Briggs and Edwin Beisel are to play a duet medley on flute and saxophone. The boys quartet, composed of William Schlicher, Walter Wurster, Terry Stephenson and Ronald Buell, will sing appropriate selections.

LITTLE ALSA IS CLEARED; JOINS FATHER IN S. A.

Completely vindicated of charges that she had attempted the poisoning of the Platan family in Los Angeles, held blameless for the crimes to which she once "confessed" and declared to be sane and normal, Alsa Thompson, precocious 7-year-old girl, today was with her father, R. G. Thompson, released yesterday in Los Angeles from custody of parole officers.

Alsa, who confessed to poisoning four persons and later retracted her admissions, was declared free from any taint of insanity and ordered released after a brief hearing in the juvenile court in Los Angeles.

Parole officers testified the child was normal and that her "confessions" were the result of auto suggestion by older persons.

The girl had confessed to being responsible for the death of twin sisters in the east, asserting she had given them ground glass. She also said she had poisoned a woman in Los Angeles. Later in retraction of her confession she said she had been prompted by adults.

At the time of her "confession" her story created a sensation and wide publicity was given to her statements. The acts she "confessed" to, however, were believed to have been impossible of accomplishment by a girl of her age, and little serious credence was given her story.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have been divorced, the mother living in Los Angeles and the father here in Santa Ana where he is employed at the Sycamore street subdivision of the Southern California Edison company.

"Gingham Dog and Calico Cat" Is Name of Cafe

"The Gingham Dog and the Calico Cat" is the rather quaint name given a new cafe and tea room located at 605 North Main street, which, according to the owners, will rival in smartness and style similar establishments in Hollywood and the Wilshire district in Los Angeles.

C. W. Lombard and Helen A. Stoner are the proprietors of the new place and will be open for business Thursday. Lombard has been engaged in the cafe and restaurant business in San Francisco. He is a world war veteran, having served in the Eighth United States Infantry, one of the regiments which formed part of the American Army of Occupation in Germany. He is a member of the American Legion and strong veteran booster. Mrs. Stoner, who hails from Chicago, served as a Red Cross nurse during the war.

To Hold Final Rehearsals Tonight For Students' Offering

With high expectation, students and residents of Santa Ana are awaiting the opening curtain of the senior play, "To the Ladies," which will be presented at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school auditorium Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock as the big annual dramatic production of the upper classmen.

The cast tonight is to hold a full dress rehearsal developing the play from the first rise of the curtain night through the three acts.

Under the supervision of Ernest Crozier Phillips, dramatics teacher at the high school and director of the Santa Ana Community Players, the drama-comedy is now receiving the final touches in readiness for the presentation. For a period of two months the members of the cast have been rehearsing the play.

High praise was given the production by George Goring, Santa Ana director and community player, after reviewing one of the rehearsals. He declared it to be one of the best plays ever offered by the senior class at the high school.

Ticket sales, according to reports from the Santa Ana Book Store where reserve seats are being sold, give promise of a full house. Senior plays in past years have commanded a widespread interest and indications point to a repetition this year.

GETS CHANCE TO PROVE INNOCENCE

J. Valenzuela will remain in jail under $2500 bail, pending preliminary hearing March 24 on a grand larceny charge, while his co-defendant, Innocencio Gomez, goes free during the interval to aid officers in finding the man he claims is guilty, and thus prove his own innocence.

Mrs. W. A. Harper, La Habra avocado grower, charged the two Mexicans with the theft of 500 pounds of avocados, valued at $2,000. They claim they bought the fruit from an Italian fruit vendor, living near La Habra. Gomez said he thought he could locate the Italian.

Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley told Justice K. E. Morrison at their arraignment Tuesday that he believed the story about the Italian fruit vendor, but that he also believed Valenzuela was implicated in some other thefts of avocados. So Gomez was allowed his liberty and Valenzuela stayed in jail.

According to Mozley, La Habra avocado growers had been complaining of numerous thefts, the aggregate amounting to several thousand pounds of fruit. Finally a trap was set at the Harper ranch, and the two Mexicans walked into it March 2.

An energetic principal in one of the large Boston public schools instituted a regime for sickly, poorly developed and backward children which showed remarkable results.

An outdoor class room was fitted up in a sheltered corner of the school yard, and during pleasant weather, all the weaker members from each class were sent here to take their regular work under a special instructor.

In addition, twice each day, during the forenoon and afternoon recesses, the children were served Horlick's Malted Milk.

By the end of the first month after the new plan had come into effect, there was an average gain in weight of three pounds among the pupils in this outdoor class, and teachers throughout the school noticed a decided increase in mental alertness, interest and concentration.

NO SCHEDULE OF FINES TO BE ENFORCED BY RECORDER

Circumstances Alter Cases View of Newly-Appointed Police Judge

FIRST DEFENDANT IS WOMAN PENALIZED

Fines Alleged Drunken Man and Tells Him to Stay Away From Drugstore

Police court cases will be handled in a fair and square manner and without the use of any kind of schedule, as has been done in the past, if the plans of Judge John F. Talbott, newly appointed city recorder, carry out as he expects. He acts as police judge.

Judge Talbott believes that circumstances alter cases and that no two crimes are committed alike and therefore will not be governed by a schedule of fines.

"There are things that come up in all cases that differ from circumstances in other cases, and it would not be justice to fine each person charged with the same offense, the same amount. On top of that, it would be finding the person guilty before the evidence in their particular case was heard," he said.

Speeder Fined $20. Then to prove his statement he fined the next man to come into his office with a ticket for speeding, $20, when for years, the fine in police court for speeding has been $15.

"I haven't become used to things around here yet," he said, "and there are a number of city ordinances that I know nothing of, but the police have been more than willing to do their part and within a few days we will have things going in the best of order." Most of the first cases that were handled yesterday by Judge Talbott were for motor violations, and most of the defendants pleaded guilty. Their cases did not stop there, but each was asked the circumstances of his or her case and all were more than willing to tell. Then their fines were levied in accordance with the views the judge held after hearing all of the evidence. Fairness to the defendant, as well as to the ordinances of the city is another thing that Judge Talbott is to strive to do while he sits on the bench.

The first person that came up before the new judge yesterday was a woman. She was charged with parking her automobile over two hours in a restricted district. She paid a fine of $3.

A man charged with being drunk, one George W. Robertson, was one of the first defendants. He told the judge he got some medicine at a drug store, and that it went to his head. The judge fined him $15 and then advised him to stay away from that particular drug store, or go to one where the certain kind of medicine he had before, could not be purchased.

Treat All Cases Alike. To treat all cases alike, to be just and honest in every decision, and to render service to the best of his knowledge and ability. Those are the things that Judge Talbott will strive to do, he said, and from his first day's experience as city recorder he is expected to make good in every sense of the word.

Several officers, who had cases before him yesterday expressed

Costa Mesa

COSTA MESA, March 18.—The Costa Mesa band's basket supper and concert was enjoyed by many Friday evening. An array of baskets furnished by the ladies was arranged on two tables. One table held baskets prepared by the older women; the other baskets by girls of 18 or younger. The ladies were in the majority, so several men bought two or more baskets.

Clark Lamberon was the auctioneer and was assisted by Mr. Ross. After the last basket had been sold, all gathered around the tables, and all enjoyed supper.

The concert brought forth much praise for the members, R. Updike and son, Robert Spencer, W. Williams, Mr. Plas and son, Simon; R. B. Baker, W. D. Walker, Merle Ewell, Frances Flynn and R. S. Erbe.

Several band members were unable to be present, one of whom, E. Henschke, has just returned to his home in Redwood

Mrs. Mel Mitchell and daughter, Lois, living on Hamilton street, near Anaheim, entertained at a dinner party Friday evening, honoring the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. J. Cunningham, Floyd Mitchell and Leonard Cassel. Those attending besides the honorees were Messrs. J. Cunningham, M. Mitchell, Brownhall, Clyde Mitchell and the hostess. The Costa Mesa Community church had services Sunday evening honoring the life and work of Fanny Crosby.

DRESSES FOR GRADUATION ARE DISCUSSED

Although commencement is still in the distant future, girls at the high school are already thinking about the dresses they are to wear at that time, and they have thought so much about it that a meeting of the girls was held recently at the high school, at which a number of mothers attended.

This year's girls are of the opinion that dresses of the past have been entirely too expensive, and because of the expense attached, it has been decided that although the dresses for this year will be as pretty as possible, they will also be economical. "Simple and inexpensive" is the verdict reached at the meeting by the senior dress committee.

Dresses Not to Be Expensive. "In this way, every girl will be given a fair chance to be as nicely dressed as any other girl," exclaimed one pretty little senior yesterday. "To some girls graduation is not successful unless a great amount of money has been expended for clothes. This is not so, for graduation clothes may be just as pretty and sweet, and cost but a small amount," she said.

The girls, in session, discussed their mightiest problem problem and finally came to the conclusion that dress could well be limited to one "outfit" for commencement and one for both class day and baccalaureate. For commencement, white tailored, inexpensive silk dresses were suggested, also pastel tailored silk dresses or fluffy dresses.

For baccalaureate, class day and ensemble, suits in flannel and sport silk dresses were suggested as being very practical as well as pretty.

Graduates and Mothers to Meet. All graduating girls will meet in the high school auditorium Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which time the suggestions of the committee will be submitted and the various plans discussed. All mothers of senior girls are asked to attend, and help their daughters in deciding the momentous questions of dress.

Stage and Screen

DORIS KENYON STARS IN

"IDLE TONGUES"
Doris Kenyon, long a favorite of the stage and screen, presents one of the finest characterizations of her career in "Idle Tongues", current attraction at the Yost theater.

Her role is that of a small town girl who falls victim to neighborhood gossip and her love for a physician suspected of theft. Percy Marmont, in the role of "Dr. Nye", eventually vindicates himself and the couple are united amid the cheering of the entire village, but the events leading up to this climax afford Miss Kenyon opportunity for some splendid emotional acting.

Through education and training Miss Kenyon is well fitted for the role. Educated at Columbia University, she began her stage career with such successes as "Princess Pat", "The White Villa" and others.

Her screen work dates back to the old Essanay days and won her immediate note from the start. Some of her most recent pictures were "The Conquest of Canaan", "The Ruling Passion" and "Shadows of the Sea".

COMMITTEE ON CHARTER NAMED

tion, as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, to have the support of the chamber and of luncheon and civic clubs in the development and presentation of a charter to the voters.

The club will co-operate with the National Exchange club in its nationwide campaign against the American vice of foolish and excessive law making by devoting its last meeting in March to a discussion of this menace, it was announced by President Swanner.

As a result of the campaign launched two years ago by the National Exchange club, the press and public life of the country have been aroused to a point where law abiding is actually becoming unpopular. Milburn Harvey, secretary, said in discussing the campaign of the national organization, and pointing out that Pacific Coast Exchange clubs were responsible for adoption by the National Exchange club of the following statement of policy:

"Excessive law making is a national vice which has no defense and no defenders. The trend of public opinion is for fewer laws and stricter enforcement of those we now have and of the statutes of the states and of the nation. Annually our legislatures grind out hundreds of new laws which are not and cannot be enforced, and which throw an additional burden upon the shoulders of the already overloaded taxpayer. The Exchange clubs of the United States are opposed to this unrestricted orgy of law making, and favor a barking-back to the fundamental principles of democratic government."

Announcement was made that the state convention of clubs would be held at Santa Barbara on May 15, 16 and 17.

The club voted to hold a picnic party at Orange county park on Wednesday evening of next week, with each member expected to invite one couple to join in the affair. It will be a basket lunch affair, with a program and dance in the latter part of the evening.

NEW CHAMBER DIRECTORS TO SELECT CHIEF

Board of directors elected yesterday at the annual election of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce was scheduled to meet at the chamber office at 4 p. m. today, and organize by selection of one of its members as president and by selecting men to fill the various other offices.

Balloting was between 2 and 5 p. m. yesterday. While the number of votes cast was heavier than in previous annual elections, the total was small, compared with the number of members, it was said.

The light vote was accepted as an indication of members that they are satisfied with permitting a few to name the men who should conduct the affairs of the organization for the coming year.

The old board will meet at 9 a. m. tomorrow, and clean up business held over. Completing this work, the old directors will turn management over to the new board. The following named were elected:

Stanley Clem, H. A. Gardner, W. H. Spurgeon Jr., Clyde Downing, Stanley E. Goode, one year; R. L. Brown, H. L. Hanson, two years; J. C. Wallace, Guy Gilbert, O. A. Haley, J. A. Cranston, Walter Vandermast, three years; George Duntun and Ray Chandler, are hold-overs and will complete the directorate of 15.

Welcome Signs To Be Erected By Beach City

The Boulder Dam Project

(A series of articles, one to appear each week, on the Boulder Dam Project will appear in The Register. William J. Carr, writer of this series of articles on the Boulder Canyon Project was a member of the State Senate from 1912 to 1922. He is a director and also vice president of Boulder Dam association, an organization consisting of some two hundred cities, counties, chambers of commerce, farm bureaus, Legion posts and civic organizations associated together to forward the project. He has closely followed its development for several years, and is accurately informed in respect to its various aspects.—Editor Register.)

The Boulder Canyon project has been a pioneer project for the development of the lower Colorado. Until it took form in the spring of 1922, when it was recommended to congress by the interior department, no concrete plan for the river's improvement had been put forward.

Naturally the project has been the center of bitter attack. Great interests are concerned with the manner and form of the river's development. Interstate jealousies have entered in. Engineering rivalries have played their part. Political considerations and personalities have exerted their influence.

From the time it became known that the government was proposing a major development at Boulder canyon, various counter and alternate schemes of development have been advanced. A new one has come to the front about every six months. Each has enjoyed a passing attention. Scrutiny has usually resulted in its being discarded. The fact, however, of these various plans being advanced has resulted in a certain amount of confusion of thought. Their bearing has not been understood.

Investigate Glen Canyon

The first of these alternative plans was for a high dam at Glen canyon, with a storage equal to or greater than that contemplated at Boulder canyon. This site was investigated. It developed that construction there was about three times as expensive as at Boulder, and besides, the canyon walls were of such soft material that they would not support a high dam. Mr. Weymouth, formerly chief engineer of the reclamation service, testifying recently before the senate committee, expressed the opinion that the idea of a high dam at Glen canyon was little short of fantastic. A low dam there might be feasible. The plan was essentially for a power development.

Next came the plan for a diversion dam some 1,000 feet in height at Spencer canyon, and a high line canal running a long distance through a mountainous section of Arizona and carrying greater part of the water of the river to Gila valley and there irrigating vast areas of land. This plan was investigated and reported upon by government engineers, who estimated its cost at $1,770,000,000 and concluded that it was not feasible in an engineering way.

The Topoc Proposal.

Then came the suggestion that the government build a low flood control dam at Topoc, a few miles below Needles, to be paid for by direct and unreimbursed government appropriation, or to be charged against land in Imperial valley protected thereby from floods. Upon scrutiny it developed that there was nothing to be gained in the way of saving in cost by constructing a dam at Topoc, and that a dam there would flood and destroy nearly 30,000 acres of irrigable land, as plans of development described above.

Because of its very direct bearing upon these two contending plans, and as the concluding words of this series of articles, it seems appropriate again to refer to the commitment made by President Coolidge in his telegram of October 8, 1924, to Mr. C. C. Teague, of which he said:

"... You will recollect that I had the pleasure to state a year ago that the time had come for the federal government to undertake the construction of the great works upon the Colorado and I recommended the matter to congress in my message. ... The major purposes of the works to be constructed there involve two fundamental questions which must always remain in public control—that is, flood control and the provision of immense water storage necessary to hold the season and annual flow so as to provide for the large reclamation possibilities in both California and Arizona.

"These considerations seem to me to dominate all others and to point logically to the federal government as the agency to undertake the construction of a great dam at Boulder canyon or some suitable locality obviously to be determined by the best engineering talent that can be secured in the nation.

"I should indeed look with great pride on the construction of this one of our greatest national improvements within my administration."

Water

There is TIME to build your SUMMER HOME at BALBOA

California's Greatest Summer Watering Resort—with ports of a still-water bay added to Surf

THE JOY of having your own Beach Home ready for you this coming summer is your opportunity now. California's beach of greatest diversified sports is now ready. The broad bay offers quiet salt water bathing. Canoeing and sailing are two of the great sports at Balboa. Next summer will be Balboa's greatest year. The long stretches of clean white sand, the cool ocean breezes offer the ideal summer playground for the "All American" boy or girl.

The PENINSULA at Balboa is the finest improved beach property on the Pacific Coast. The streets are all laid with concrete of six and eight-inch depth. Concrete electric lines with wiring all in, in conduit, adds dignity to this fine watering place. The new "Boardwalk" almost a mile long is finished. The PENINSULA is ready for its most happy summer. The long expanse of ocean frontage offers the residents of the PENINSULA surf bathing that has practically the advantages of a private beach.

The ideal behind the PENINSULA is to build a summer colony on a higher plane. To this end we have set an example of building homes of the English beach cottage type. While this type is not specified, we retain the right to inspect plans. Protective racial restrictions too have been established. In restricting apartments and flats on the property the Blankenhorn Company has prevented the over-running of the PENINSULA with transients which so often leads to an undesirable environment. We will help you build or build for you—write for our free architectural service; this service is available complete or in part.

EFFICIENCY IN BUSINESS IS SONGS ENLIVEN ROTARY THEME

With Walter N. Vandermast, chairman of the business methods committee, presiding, the Rotary club yesterday conducted a symposium on business methods, developing from the floor many discussions of interest and profit.

The chairman had distributed questions about the dinner tables and later called upon different persons for discussion of the subjects on the slips.

Discussion on the relative value of giving efficient employees a bonus or an increase in salary disclosed that the bonus method of reward was considered the better.

Members having efficiency clubs in their organizations declared that the association of employees in such clubs was beneficial, both to employees and to employers. The clubs were highly recommended as a means of bringing the employer and the employee into closer relationship.

With Irish songs and stories featured in the program, the Men's Brotherhood of the Spurgeon Memorial church, held its monthly dinner at the church last night. J. C. Gilbank presided as toastmaster in the absence of C. N. Mozley, president of the brotherhood.

Following a chicken dinner, prepared by women of the church and served by young men of the Bible class of T. M. Purdom, Marvin Walton opened the program with two readings, "Size" and "Biblical Baseball."

In a group of three Irish songs, Frank Johnson evidenced a well-trained voice, and delighted his auditors with his rendition of "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen." When Irish Eyes Are Smiling, and "That Old Irish Mother of Mine." He was accompanied by his teacher, Harry Garstang.

In reading, "Jimmy Brown's Sister's Wedding" and "Conversation of Mother and Son," Mrs. J. C. Gilbank displayed talent.

Miss Louise Temple, of the city school teaching staff, showed versatility by an interpretation of the Indian sign language and by her negro dialect stories.

The program was concluded with a talk by Ralph C. Smedley, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., on the subject, "Contagion of Cheerfulness."

Smile, and the world smiles with you," was the gist of his remarks. "The graveyards and asylums are full of people who were waiting for trouble that never came," he said.

and to a better understanding of mutual problems.

Among those who were called upon for remarks were W. L. Deimling, of the Southern California Edison company; Herbert Rankin, of Rankin's; A. H. Peterson, of the Union Oil company; Walter C. Archibald, of the Crane company; Charles Mitchell, paint and paper store proprietor; and W. De Rudd, manager of the local branch of the National Cash Register company.

Election by the board of directors of William McKay, secretary, and Alex Brownridge, treasurer, was announced by President M. A. Patton. The combined offices formerly were held by Robert Conway.

Singing by the Rotary Glee club of songs written by Glenn Tindall was a musical feature. The club is directed by Ellis Rhodes.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, March 18.—Although wheat scored a substantial recovery, stocks were under pressure again in today's session and new lows were touched in many sections of the list. St. Paul issues were the principal points of heaviness, breaking to record lows on the receivership announcement. For a time this development appeared to clear the whole market so far as the market as a whole was concerned. Fairly substantial recoveries were made in the morning hours in Steel, American Can, General Electric, American Locomotive and other pivotal issues.

Selling was resumed in the afternoon, however, following persistent hammering of the St. Paul and American Woolen issues. Steel shares were unsettled by sharp declines in Bethlehem and Crucible. After displaying stubborn resistance at 120 on the sell-off movement of the last two days, Steel Common was finally forced below that level. This drop proved a signal for renewed pressure on the general list and the morning rallies were mostly effaced in the late trading.

The market closed irregular. U. S. Steel, 120; Baldwin, 125½, off 1½; Studebaker, 42½, up ¾; American Can, 13½, up 1½; American Locomotive, 37½, off 1½; Cast Iron Pipe, 188, off 4½; General Electric, 259, up ¼; General Motors, 70½, up ¼; Pan American, 74½, up 2½; Mack Truck, 127½, off ¼; American Locomotive, 30½, up ¼; Texas Company, 44½, up ¼; Union Pacific, 119½, up ¼; St. Paul, 6½, off 1½; St. Paul Pfd., 104½, off 3½; Rock Island, 60½, off 1½; Wabash, 68½, off ¼; Texas Pacific, 52½, off 1½.

TWO TRUE BILLS RETURNED BY JURY

Mrs. Shepherd, a large woman who has retained considerable beauty well into middle age, took the news bitterly.

"They are persecuting my husband," she said with emphasis. "This is a terrible and malicious conspiracy. They are jealous because Billy left his money to us." Palmer was in better frame of mind. He seemed pleased that he had confessed. He rubbed his polished fingernails along the fresh crease in his trousers and flicked nonchalantly at his moustache and sideburns. The only thing that worried him, he admitted, was the fact that his school had been called "a mill of quacks."

There was no trace of feeling for the 21-year-old boy who died just as he became of legal age to inherit and use his vast estate. There was no feeling of remorse for his part in the plot.

"What will become of my school?" he moaned.

Find New Witness.

Almost simultaneously with the voting of indictments against Shepherd and Fairman, Crows found a new witness, corroborating Fairman's confession, which is vigorously denied by Shepherd.

This witness, Robert White, said he was a student at Fairman's school—an institution which promises to make doctors of its students—and saw Shepherd at the school.

"I saw him in October, 1923," White told Crows after picking Shepherd out of a group of men. "He inquired about our equipment and asked to see our president."

Behind your switch

Touch a switch and lights flash on. Snap in a plug and little glowing wires start cooking your breakfast. Press a button and a motor leaps to the task of cleaning your rugs.

Magic? No—only electricity but electricity developed and made obedient by the minds of men. Behind your switch—from your home to powerhouses in distant mountains—reaches the far-flung and efficient organization of your power company.

Your power company provides an abundant and never-failing supply of electricity but how well this electricity serves you depends largely upon the quality and completeness of your electrical installation. Since this in turn depends upon the electrical contractor who wires your home, he should be chosen carefully. That's why we advise, "Before you build or buy, insist on 'Check' Seal electrical wiring."

GOSSIP of the RING

Jack McAuliffe, the veteran retired lightweight champion, illustrates the "friendly" feeling that used to exist in the old days between fighters with a story about John L. Sullivan.

Sullivan and McAuliffe were great friends and they used to travel around the country taking all corners, John L. meeting the heavies and McAuliffe taking on the lightweights.

Charley Mitchell, the English heavyweight at this particular time had been annoying John L. with challenges. One night in a hotel in Boston, Mitchell's name was brought into the conversation and John L. bellowed:

"You tell that Englishman that I'll knock his fool head off the first time I meet him on the street."

There is no particular point to this story other than it serves as an example to illustrate the change that a generation has worked in the prize ring and the fighters engaged in the business.

To show the contrast between the old days and the new days of fighting, any number of cases might be quoted, but a recent conversation by Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, is a good illustration.

Tunney Manufactured Fighter
 Tunney is one of the class rated as manufactured fighters. Unlike Benny Leonard, Joe Lynch, Jack Dempsey, Jack Britton and others too numerous to mention, Tunney did not start out to be a fighter. He lived in the Greenwich Village section of New York, where a youngster has to be able to take care of himself, but he did not make it an ambition to become the fighting leader of the gang in his block.

Tunney got a parochial school education and took a course in a business school and set out to earn his living as a bookkeeper. When the war came he jumped down from the high stool, speared the pen in the pine top of the desk and went to a tent where the United States Marines were accepting volunteers.

Boxing was a part—a very important part—of the training for the Marine corps, and Tunney learned that he could handle himself with an ease that indicated natural ability. He was encouraged to take the game seriously and he did. He went into various tournaments representing the Marines and he came out of the service of the A. E. F. etoain shrdlu cmfwpy shrdlu shrdlu. When he was mustered out of the service he decided that he had more of an opportunity to get ahead with the gloves than he had to advance himself from a $25 a week bookkeeper and he jumped into the professional class and eventually became a champion.

Praises Harry Greb
 During his professional career he has met Harry Greb, former light-heavyweight champion and now the middleweight titleholder, several times and there is supposed to be a bitter feeling existing between the two boxers. When the name of Greb is mentioned in his presence, one almost instinctively expects Tunney to explode in John L. fashion and roar: "I'll knock that bloke's head off if he ever fights me again."

When Greb was mentioned recently in the presence of Tunney, here's what he said:

"Greb is the most courageous fighter I ever saw or ever met in the ring. I don't believe any one ever lived with a stouter heart. His gameness is one of his greatest assets, not only because it helps him through so many tough places, but because it has such a disheartening effect upon his opponents."

CARD TWO NET MATCHES HERE DURING APRIL

No less than two major tennis events, open to all players in Orange county, have been carded for next month by the Santa Ana Tennis club, according to announcement today by John Cress, secretary.

The first classic will be the mens singles tournament which will be held on the Poly courts Sunday, April 12. The club will endeavor to make this the largest and best affair of its kind ever staged in the county.

Girl players will have their innings April 19 when the Orange County Women's Singles tournament is played here. A number of the leading feminine exponents of the court game reside in Orange county and all of these are expected to enroll.

Suitable awards will be made the winners of both tournaments, Cress said.

"The recent mixed doubles matches created a lively interest among tennis players here," Cress said, "and with cooperation the Santa Ana Tennis club can make the coming tournaments even more successful. The club intends to card some interesting event for every month this year."

A team of local men players will meet the Long Beach Tennis club in match play at Long Beach a week from Sunday.

Fists Fly When Ex-Champ Defies Munn to Wrestle

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 18.—The exhibition of "Big" Munn, heavyweight wrestling champion, was considerably marred here last night when Wladek Zbyszko, former title holder climbed into the ring and challenged the champion. He followed this up by taking off his coat and telling Munn that he was ready to begin. Munn left the ring.

Billy Haacke, boxing promoter, who staged the exhibition ordered Zbyszko to leave. When the Pole hesitated, Haacke hit him in the jaw.

George Kotsonaros, Greek heavyweight not billed on the program, was next to step into the ring with Haacke and Haacke greeted him with a punch on the chin also.

CATCHER THOUGHT 'THROUGH' HAS GREAT YEAR WITH SACS

ART KOEHLER

Sacramento, boasting a greatly improved team, has ambitions for its first Pacific Coast league pennant this year. In Art Koehler, veteran catcher, the Senators have not only one of the finest receivers in the minors, but one of the hardest hitters. Two years ago Koehler was traded to Sacramento by Oakland and he was thought about through but he has batted over .330 both seasons.

BRIEFS from the TRAINING CAMPS

CATALINA ISLAND—Clark Pittinger, recruit Cub third baseman, nearly threw an exhibition game to the Salt Lake club of the Pacific Coast league but a sparkling double play by Friberg, Adams and Grimm pulled the game out of the fire and the Cubs won 4 to 3.

SHREVEPORT—Five members of the Chicago White Sox training camp got the ax.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Although the Reds beat Columbus, American association team yesterday 10 to 6, the work of May and Morris in the box did not exactly please nor did the base running show big league stuff.

SANFORD, Fla.—Garland Buckeye, 230 pound right hander from the sand lots of Chicago, will start for the Indians in their third exhibition game of the season today against Milwaukee. Indianapolis apollo defeated the tribe yesterday, 11 to 2.

STOCKTON—The ax has started falling in the Cardinal camp and five California rookie pitchers have been released by Branch Rickey. Today's contest for the Cards is with the Sacramento club. Hornsby and Bottomley will be kept out of the lineup, owing to injuries.

SAN FRANCISCO—Kansas City beat San Francisco again yesterday, 4 to 3 and George Putnam celebrated the event by releasing nine rookie Seals who have been vainly trying for regular berths.

SAN JOSE, Calif.—The Portland regulars greeted President Tom Turner's arrival in camp by beating the Yankinns, 5 to 0.

MICHIGAN TEAM STRONG
 University of Michigan looks for a great baseball team this season. Coach Fisher will have pretty close to a veteran aggregation, though Harry Kipke and Jack Blott, two stars of the 1924 season, are missing. Another good pitcher or two, however, and the Maize and Blue should be in the running for Big Ten honors.

CHRISTOPHERS TO MEET S. A. BOWLERS NEXT

Now at that place where they either must rally or give up hopes of finishing in the money, the Bowles Motor company bowlers, local representatives in the Southern California league, travel to the Pekoname alleys, Los Angeles, tomorrow night for a series with the L. J. Christopher five.

Once but a step out of first place, the Santa Anas have been slipping week by week until now they are in the second division of the 16-team circuit. They still have a chance to save themselves by winning decisively the next two or three weeks.

Bill Gordon, Penny Jones, "Larry" Harrison, Max Ames and Guy Martin will be in the Bowles lineup against the Christophers.

Beginning next Tuesday two series will be bowled each week in the Southern California league until the schedule is completed April 23.

TUSTIN HANDS LOCALS FIRST SEASON UPSET

Santa Ana high school's baseball nine suffered its first defeat of the season yesterday when the Tustin high school aggregation scored a 8 to 4 win in a six-inning game played here.

"Mickey" LeBar, Tustin heavy hitter, started the scoring for the visitors when he pounded out a home run in the first frame with two runners on bases. In the second inning Santa Ana retaliated by evening the score.

Loose handling of the ball by Santa Ana cost the local players three more runs in the third inning. Except for a home run by Spencer in the same round, the Santa Ana nine added no additional scores while Tustin gathered in enough tallies to make their total eight.

Scores for Santa Ana were made by Captain Norton, Reister, Spencer, and Daley. Tustin players who made home plate were LeBar, Crawford (2), E. Jimenez, Prather, Homes, and Alexander.

NURMI FORCED TO QUIT RACE WITH RITOLA

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK, March 18.—One good meal of his pet dish—a large slab of veal—cost Paavo Nurmi his greatest triumph before a crowd of 10,000 that packed Madison Square Garden last night with the hope of watching the world's greatest runner beat all his rivals.

Nurmi was more than half a lap in front of Willie Ritola, his arch rival, in the 5,000 meter race. He had gone around the track thirty times and had only four more laps to go when he staggered from the track and quit.

Physicians from the A. A. U. examined him and gave him a spasm of a long name of his ailment, explaining in ordinary language he had suffered a spasm of the stomach. He was unable to leave his dressing room for more than an hour and he was forced to withdraw from the mile race in which he had promised to make an effort for 4:10.

It was the first time that Nurmi had been beaten in a race from scratch since Guillemot, the French star, defeated him in the 5,000 meter race at the Olympic games in Antwerp in 1920.

Jole Ray, the little Chicago star, was all primed for Nurmi in the mile race, as was shown when he made a new indoor record of 4:12. Ray ran the greatest race of his career and he would have given Nurmi a great battle.

Allen Hellrich of Pennsylvania state, America's premier middle distance runner made a new record for 600 yards when he ran the distance in 1:11 3-5.

 Riding roughshod over The Register team in last night's series at the Broadway academy, the Kelley Drug company stopped the rush of the Scribes toward Pennantville when they captured all four points.

The league-leaders could not get into and none of the games were close. Angle had a 554 series that he would have given McKee too individual game honors with a 214. The results:

WEBBER STARS BY MAKING 24 POINTS ALONE

Al Clayes Easy Winner In Sprint Events; Lutz and Morris Turn In Firsts

Eight men of the Santa Ana junior college track team routed a score of cinderpath followers of the Chaffey junior college in a meet yesterday at Ontario. The local athletes won ten of the first places and carried off the honors by a score of 80 to 42.

Coach Ray Adkinson, skipper of the college trackmen, has peeped the best ensemble of human flashiness of any small college in the Southland. One meet on next Friday against Caltech and the Pasadena junior college at Pasadena remains before the Southern California conference meet March 23 at Pasadena when the small colleges will fight it out for supremacy.

Against Chaffey, all the tracksters of Coach Adkinson's team garnered points. Charles Webber was the individual high point winner with a total of 24 to his credit. Webber took firsts in the high hurdles, low hurdles and high jump and seconds in the 100, the 220 and the broad jump.

Al Clayes, sprint king, was an easy winner of the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He also was second in the shot put and tied for third in the pole vault with Armstrong of Santa Ana.

One of the surprises of the meet came when "Hojo" Armstrong won the 440 against a field of runners. In addition he placed in the 100 yard dash and in the pole vault. Armstrong circled the oval in 58 seconds for the 440 despite a poorly conditioned track.

The Santa Ana distance runners, Hollis Flitts and Robert O'Brien, could not beat out the Chaffey men in the mile and two mile.

In the discus throw, Everett Lutz tossed the plate 113 feet and 5 inches. He took first by a bare margin of 2 inches over Vickery of Chaffey. John Lutz placed in the 220 and 440 yard dashes.

Lloyd Morris heaved the 16-pound shot 37 feet 2 inches. This is believed to be the best mark this season by a Southern California junior college athlete. Morris also placed in the broad jump and the discus throw.

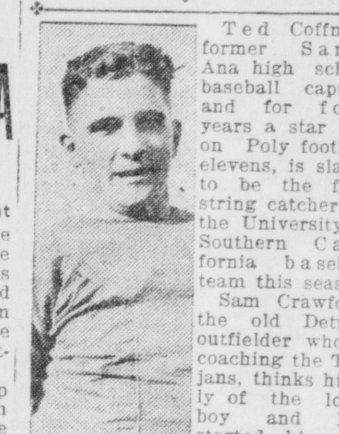

High hurdles—Webber (SA) first; Adams (C) second; York (C) third. Time 18 3-10 sec.
 440 yard dash—Armstrong (S) first; MacGil (C) second; J. Lutz (SA) third. Time 58 sec.

 220 yard dash—Webber (SA) first; Clayes (SA) second; Evans (C) third. Distance 47 feet, 2 inches.
 Broad jump—Horsch (C) first; Webber (SA) second; Morris (SA) third. Distance 29 feet 2 inches.

LASWELL IS FAVORITE
 CLEVELAND—Maynard Laswell, Los Angeles, defending champion, appeared likely to hold his title as games were resumed today in the National A. A. U. Handball Tournament here. He was pitted against Art Lennon of New York today.

Former Poly Star Expected To Make Trojan Ball Club

Ted Coffman, former Santa Ana high school baseball captain and for four years a star end on Poly football eleven, is slated to be the first string catcher on the University of Southern California baseball team this season.

Sam Crawford, the old Detroit outfielder who is coaching the Trojans, thinks highly of the local boy and has started him behind the log in all pre-season contests to date.

Coffman is a smart chap behind the plate. He has a strong whip and can hit most any kind of pitch so he should make a great fight for his block "SC."

Neal Raney, also of Santa Ana, has played two years in the U. S. C. outfield and nobody is going to dispute his right to another season in the gardens.

Kid Mexico Wins By Knockout In Bout at Vernon

When Kid Mexico, Huntington Beach middleweight, landed his right uppercut to the chin of Jack Ketchell of Philadelphia, the semi-windup at Vernon last night came to a quick termination in the first round. Mexico won by a knockout. He previously had Ketchell on the floor.

In the main event Eddie Huffman, sailor heavy, out-pointed and outlasted Tony Fuente. Huffman won nine of the 10 rounds and had Fuente on the verge of a knockout in the last round.

Commission Will Take Up Dempsey Reply March 24

NEW YORK, March 18.—Action on the reply of Jack Dempsey to its ultimatum that he accept the challenge of Harry Wills will not be taken by the New York boxing commission until March 24, it was announced today after the regular meeting of the commission.

"Dempsey has shown a tendency to be very legal about his reply and we will postpone action until the 15-day period allowed by the rules has expired," James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, said.

He said the reply of Dempsey had been received and had been read.

PETITION FOR REMOVING OIL BAN IS READY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 13.—Petition asking that the city trustees call a special election for the removal of the oil restrictions between Eighteenth and Twenty-third streets now carries the required number of signatures and is ready for filing with the city clerk, it was reported here today.

It was also said that the petition will be held in reserve until final decision is reached in regard to establishment of a million-dollar horseshoe pier here.

"If the horseshoe pier is built, people will come into this city to live and we will need the land in the area for residence purposes," said William Crawford, one of those who circulated the petition. On the other hand, it is pointed out that the land will not be needed for some time for residence purposes and opening of the district for oil would possibly add several million dollars to the oil production of the city.

The petition is an echo of a petition presented several years ago, which was defeated by the voters. The matter at that time was brought to a head by the Pacific Palisades company, which owns considerable land within the restricted area. The petition this time includes an area which is not densely populated.

Prominent among the petitioners are William Crawford, E. H. Boyer and Mrs. E. J. Weiner, all real estate dealers.

Antlers Club to Entertain Ladies
HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 13.—Members of the Antlers club here will be hosts to their wives and friends at a special entertainment in the lodge hall tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. The evening has been set apart as "ladies' night."

Entertainment features are in the hands of a committee composed of E. H. Boyer, J. A. Morris, Lee Parcell and A. Onson. The program is being held in reserve as a surprise. The club rooms were recently repaired and refurnished.

The Antlers club has made application for an Elks charter.

ANNOUNCE VACATION
YORBA LINDA, March 13.—The Yorba Linda grammar school will close Friday, April 3, for the spring vacation, and will reopen Monday, April 13th.

Laguna Couple Will Go On Road With Vaudeville

LAGUNA BEACH, March 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Antdenkamp, two popular members of the younger set, are going on the stage. They have prepared a vaudeville act and have shown it in Pasadena, where they say the reports were very good on their effort.

Comedy effects are used and the finish of the act is a whirlwind Apache dance that "made 'em sit up and take notice" when they did the dance for an amateur show here. The firm name of the new act is to be Lyndon and Farnham.

Mrs. Antdenkamp is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Farman and a granddaughter of Mrs. Catherine Brooks, one of the early settlers in this vicinity. Mr. Antdenkamp is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fren Antdenkamp.

H. B. PREPARES FOR CONCERTS BY CITY BAND

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 13.—Further preparations for summer band concerts on the beach here were under way today by the city band, as repairs were being made to the band stand on the pike.

City Engineer E. M. Billings was today busy painting the seats and canopy at the stand.

Considerable talk has been heard recently on the subject of erection of a new band stand, suitable not only for band concerts, but also as a place where entertainments and vaudeville acts might be given during the summer.

Tentative plans outlined by Will Gallienne, manager of the Municipal band, include an enclosed area which would keep out cool ocean breezes and yet would provide shade comfortable. More seating room and better acoustic properties would also be provided, Gallienne declared.

EXCAVATION FINISHED.
HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 13.—Excavation was completed here today on the James Macklin lot, corner of Ocean avenue and Third street, where a $40,000 garage is to be built at once. Work was started today on the pouring of the concrete foundation of the John Eader bakery, on Main street.

BALBOA FACES PROBLEM WITH AUTO TRAFFIC

BALBOA, March 13.—Unofficial use of the new Coast highway last Sunday, bringing an unusually large number of motorists to Balboa, again brought sharply to the attention of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce the need of traffic relief.

The Balboa chamber has been considering advisability of two plans as a solution to the congestion on Central avenue, between Alvarado and Washington streets. One is to widen the street on both sides of the Pacific Electric right-of-way by taking five feet from the property owners. In this plan, the board of trustees of the city would be asked to create an assessment zone, probably from Alvarado street to B street, and from Bay front to S street.

The other plan would be to remove the curb along the Pacific Electric right-of-way and pave. This in all likelihood would mean a condemnation suit, it is asserted.

City Engineer Kressley recently expressed the opinion that, in the next five years, the traffic situation in Balboa would have to be answered by doing both, and his suggestion is that, as the widening of the street would be the quickest and most economical of the two ways, it should be the first plan considered.

At a round table meeting of the Balboa chamber, it was decided to send to all property owners in the proposed zone a letter covering the situation in detail, stressing the fact that some action must be taken at once on the traffic problem.

Marauders At Talbert Break Store Window

TALBERT, March 13.—Three men, believed to have been under the influence of intoxicants, entertained themselves one night this week by breaking windows in Talbert and as a result, three buildings, the S. E. Talbert store, the Mexican pool hall and the dwelling occupied by the Japanese barber, suffered from their depredations.

It was in the middle of night that the Japanese was awakened by two men who came to his window and demanded that he go to the store and get them some cigarettes. He refused to open the shop at that hour and the men proceeded to throw a stone through the window into his room. Then, joining another companion who had remained in the car, they went to the store of S. E. Talbert, where, unable to raise any one, they again displayed their displeasure. They hurled a large rock through the front window of the store. The pool room was similarly treated and the marauders then evidently grew tired of this form of sport and drove away.

Voters Authorize Lighting District

COSTA MESA, March 13.—Formation of a lighting district, comprising Fairview avenue and Newport boulevard, was authorized at a special election held in Costa Mesa Tuesday. Forty votes were cast in favor of the project and none in opposition.

Yorba Linda

YORBA LINDA, March 13.—An attractive affair was a luncheon at which Mrs. E. E. Knight entertained the Yorba Linda Bridge club on Thursday. Club members present and their guests for the afternoon included Mrs. G. C. Kinsman, Mrs. C. W. Blatner, Mrs. J. A. Small, Mrs. A. W. Miller, Mrs. A. B. McDevitt, Mrs. Albert Wilson, Mrs. A. R. Marshburn, Mrs. Frank Rosapaw, Mrs. J. T. Hurly, Mrs. G. C. Neal, Miss Ina MacClatchie and the hostess.

Workmen are installing machinery in the foothills Groves packing house for the Brodgers system, which will be used on oranges, packed by that association this season.

The packing house is now busy handling lemons. An extra picking crew was put on last week. The house has two lemon pools—the second one for the year opened March 1, many growers waiting for the new pool before having their fruit picked. Lemons are now coming in rapidly and the fruit is reported as sizing up nicely.

Motorists on Lemon drive, past the grammar school, are urged to conform to the new traffic regulations, permitting a speed of not more than 15 miles per hour. Two steel signs, warning motorists of the reduced speed, have been placed.

School Bond Votes Unanimous

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, March 13.—Without a dissenting vote, voters of the Springdale grammar school district, at a special election Saturday, decided to issue $17,000 in bonds for the purpose of building a new schoolhouse. Twenty-one votes were cast.

It is proposed to build the structure during the vacation months. Preliminaries incident to sale of the bonds will be completed as soon as possible, in order to facilitate work of actual building. The new schoolhouse will contain two class rooms. Detailed plans for the building have not been completed.

MANY BUILDING NEW HOMES AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, March 13.—Many new homes are being built in Laguna Beach, the artistic type predominating. On the hills back of the town, known as Temple Hills, several artists have homes under construction.

Miss Anna Risher, the celebrated composer, who has had at least 125 compositions published, has a charming gabled place that is nearing completion. Oscar Knutson, a portrait painter, is building next door to Miss Risher. Lee Hayes, a visiting artist, has decided to build a bungalow and has chosen a spot directly back of Miss Risher's place. Adjoining the Risher home, on the other side, will be the new bungalow being erected by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis to San Bernardino, who have owned the land where they are to build for some time, having bought it as acreage.

The view from this eminence is superb and the artists have taken advantage of it. Madame Ann Dare and Miss Lydia Brackelsby-Davis expect to begin work on their studio colony in a short time.

The new studio belonging to Mrs. Catherine Brooks is nearly finished. It is a splendid place in which to exhibit the many famous pictures which Mrs. Brooks owns. The new Norman Chamberlain studio is finished and presents an attractive appearance, the doors being especially appealing from an artistic standpoint. In addition to the number of houses being put up by the members of the artists' colony, many other places are in course of construction.

Talbert

TALBERT, March 13.—The Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Gibson entertained at a party, honoring the former's cousin, Miss Gladys Cole, of Los Angeles, who was their house guest for 10 days. The evening was spent with games and music. Mrs. Gibson served her guests refreshments. Present were Misses Gladys Cole, Helen Wardlow, Edna Dennis and Dorothy Rogers, Mrs. Elva Doyle, Mrs. C. W. Miller, Charles Johnson, Lloyd Dakon, Lawrence Doyle, Home Crowley, Elmer Taylor, Ben Cox, Jesse Lee, Harry Titus, and the Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Gibson.

The contest, which has been a special feature in Epworth League work, continues to add new members to the society. Score for the "Go-Getters" and the "Invincibles," the two divisions working in the contest, now stands at 136 for the former and 106 for the latter side.

At a business meeting of the league, which is to be held Friday night of this week, plans for a benefit play are to be made.

CAMPAIGN OF OIL DRILLING IS UNDER WAY

YORBA LINDA, March 13.—The most extensive campaign of oil well drilling to be undertaken in fields in the vicinity of Yorba Linda for some time is under way.

Counting the Brea fields with those at Olinda and Richfield, at least 30 new rigs are up and drilling is in progress.

The closest well to Yorba Linda is the new wildcat of the Union Oil company, on the Olinda Land company property, north of Yorba Linda, which was spudded in Wednesday. The rig has been up for several weeks, but drilling was not started until this week. The well is about a mile north of town. It is known as Yorba Linda No. 1 well.

Olinda District Active.
In the Olinda district, the Chandler-Candfield-Midway company has two derricks up for new wells, both to be sent down to deep sand. These are the first new wells started by the Santa Fe company in Olinda in some time and the Shell company is also starting new rigs.

A number of the old, shallow wells have been cleaned out and put in shape.

Along the range of hills running from Olinda to Brea, near the Stearns lease, are a number of new wells, with four steel derricks looming up. In the canyon north of Brea, are also several new rigs. Wells already started or to be drilled this spring.

South of town, the Petroleum Midway company has two wells ready to bring in. Consolidated No. 9 and Yarnell No. 10. The General Petroleum company has a new well on the Stearns-Thompson lease, and the Chickens Oil company, which started the field some months ago with a fine producer on the Bradford lease, has a rig up for No. 3 well.

Seek to Lease Land.
Representatives of the Petroleum Midway company have visited ranchers living along Citrus avenue and have made tentative offers for a group lease of 100 acres. The company wants acreage close to the Olinda Land company tract, where the new Union Oil company wildcat well was spudded in.

It is expected the ranchers will sign a group lease comprising several ranches, if their offer is accepted by the company. A number of lease men have visited the ranchers, but so far no lease has been secured.

NEW SCIENTIFIC

DISCOVERY IN GLANDOGEN

Many leading authorities and scientists have proved by actual tests, that the benefits of gland transplantation may be obtained by giving the patient gland substance to be taken internally, rather than by operation.

Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the re-inforcement of their functions, if changed by age or disease, by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. C. S. Kelley and Park Drug stores will supply you.

PLEADS FOR USE OF ORANGE COUNTY PRODUCTS IN PAVING PROJECT ON BALBOA ISLAND

NEWPORT BEACH, March 13.—Appealing to the city of Newport Beach for the use of Orange county products, Judge L. F. Coburn of Orange, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, Monday asked the board of trustees to use its influence in having a rock and gravel company of Orange supply material for the Balboa Island paving job.

Judge Coburn said in his communication that every effort should be made by all the people of the county to favor home institutions.

Considerable discussion developed at the trustees' meeting over a request from the harbor post of the American Legion, asking for use of the city's free parking space at Newport for March 21 and 22, in connection with its 49th celebration at Balboa. The ask permission to make a charge of 25 cents for parking, the proceeds to be used for the building fund. Argument was that visitors to the beach would object, but it was shown that the legion boys would only solicit for parking charges, as the city could not legally turn over the park, and that those who did not desire to help the legion would not be required to pay the fee.

H. M. Worcester presented plans for a mosquito abatement district, extending from Seal Beach and inland to Santa Ana, then back to the palisades. Dr. Preston, county health officer, and Mr. Porter, city health officer, both talked on the subject and the board finally referred the matter to Mr. Porter for a report at the next meeting. There seems some dispute as to how the district will be handled and the board deemed it best to get a full report on what the other towns in the district are doing in the matter.

BLODGET TAKES STEPS TO OPEN BEACH STREETS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 13.—Preliminary steps were taken here today by City Attorney L. W. Blodget to open Twelfth street and Magnolia avenue, running through the Pacific Palisades company property, in the Methodist camp ground. The streets at the present time meet in the center of the ground and pass around a large building.

City trustees have deemed it necessary that the streets be opened to continue with the city paving program.

Blodget is also negotiating with the Southern Pacific railroad for crossings on streets connecting the east and west sides of town. The two sides are divided by the railroad, over which only a few crossings have been made. Corners on many of the east side streets are also to be improved by the street department.

Battling Your Way Into Town

It was a glorious trip. The setting sun proclaims the day about done.

And now the battle starts. It will be dark long before you reach home.

What a jam! You barely crawl along. You stop. You start. You creep ahead a few yards. Again you jam on the brakes.

Cars! Cars! Cars! Endlessly in front of you, endlessly behind you.

The driver just ahead stops suddenly. You barely miss bumping into his car.

On-coming cars honk an angry warning if you attempt to turn out. The road is too narrow.

Intersecting highways also are jammed with traffic. At every intersection again you wait, doggedly clutching the wheel in silent wrath.

At last, after literally fighting your way over the road, you swing into your own driveway.

Yes, it was a glorious trip, but—

ADVISES DELAY IN PRUNING OF INJURED TREES

BY H. E. WAHLBERG, County Farm Advisor

In view of the numerous inquiries that have been received by the agricultural extension service relative to the pruning treatment of wind and frost injured trees, it would seem timely to review a few facts in this connection as determined from previous experiences of 1913 and 1922.

It might be said that the injurious effect of the dry desert winds are practically the same as injury caused from excessive cold, as far as pruning is concerned.

Prompt Pruning Harmful. Trees that have been seriously affected by either of the above unfavorable weather conditions should not be pruned for at least four to six months after the time of injury, in the light of past experience on the part of practical growers and the research staff of the citrus experiment station. The theory on the part of a few growers that prompt pruning is necessary to prevent further drying back of the injured wood has been thoroughly exploded. Early pruning has been a detriment rather than a boon to the injured tree, not to say anything about the grower's pocketbook.

Pruning operations carried on by the citrus experiment station and duplicated by a number of commercial groves in the south following the 1913 freeze, indicate that unpruned trees a year following the period of freeze had developed the largest top and more fruit, there being practically no fruit on the rows that were cut back heavily.

Three methods of pruning were used in these tests, moderate pruning, heavy pruning and no pruning.

Third Treatment Best. The third treatment, no pruning, gave the best results following the first year. These results correspond entirely with experience of growers all over the state and demonstrate conclusively that early pruning is unnecessary, does no good and increases the expense.

Results from the handling of wind-burned trees in the same manner also justifies the recommendation to delay pruning for five or six months, or longer, until the trees have had time to throw out new growth and plainly show the limits of the dead wood. All necessary pruning can then be done at one time.

Where trees are defoliated from either cause, it is desirable to protect the naked limbs from sunburn by an application of whitewash, which should be thoroughly cooled before using. It is particularly desirable to let the whitewash stand several days before putting on if it is sprayed onto new growth.

URGES BEAN MEN TO WATCH WEEVIL

BY W. M. CORY, Assistant Farm Advisor

With the general spread of the bean weevil in the bean growing sections of the state, local growers should be extremely cautious in preventing a like infestation here.

From all experimental data available at present, it would appear that the planting of infested seed will not infect the growing crop as the weevils lay their eggs in the pod after the beans are well matured or preferably in the mature bean.

During the period between planting and maturing of the new crop, the weevils will not survive, provided there are no beans for them to lay eggs on from which new generations might hatch. The weevil is able to survive severe conditions when within the bean but is comparatively short lived after emerging.

The planting of weevil seed injures the crop causing a large percentage of the seeds to fail to germinate. Also, by hastening the decomposition of the seeds while they are germinating and by moving and making unavailable much of the plant food which should aid the young plan in becoming well established, thus making weak unproductive plants.

Hellen Keller Seeks Fund for Blind Institute

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—Miss Helen Keller, born without sight, speech, or hearing, is today completing her plans for a tour of the southland as a part of her national campaign to raise $2,000,000 for the Helen Keller fund of the American foundation for the blind. Miss Keller arrived in the city yesterday.

Miss Keller, through the wonderful work of her teacher, Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, now talking and almost hearing, will speak in Pasadena, San Diego and other cities in Southern California. She expects to raise $200,000 in this section. Miss Keller has bobbed her hair since her last visit here three years ago, but refuses to comment on it.

Dairymen of County to Meet in S. A.

A called meeting of the dairy department of the Orange County farm bureau will be held in the Hall of Records building, March 28, it was announced today.

A number of well known dairy experts will be on hand to give talks at the meeting which will be an all day affair. These include Dr. Charles Traut, veterinary division of the University of California, who will talk on "Dairy Cattle Diseases"; Prof. William Regan, dairy division of the university farm, on "Dairying"; and G. E. Gordon, dairy specialist with the university, on "Factors Bearing on the Economical Production of Milk."

EXCHANGE VOTES SUM FOR STATION

When the special windbreak committee of the Villa Park Farm center placed before the directors of the Orange County Fruit Exchange the need for financial co-operation by the local citrus industry with the weather bureau for the establishment of wind observation stations, the directors of the exchange unanimously voted to appropriate $350 to finance such a station.

A recent communication from the chief of the weather bureau to the farm advisor's office indicated that in view of decreased appropriations this year for the maintenance of the bureau, only one station for wind observation in Orange county could be established. The chief of the bureau indicated that if the local growers, through the associations, would co-operate to the extent of financing the other two stations, the bureau would establish one station and provide a man to take the readings on all three stations during the critical period.

At a meeting of the special windbreak committee, called by Willard Smith of Villa Park, chairman, at the farm bureau office, it was unanimously decided to present the matter before the Orange County Fruit exchange and the Northern Orange County Fruit exchange. The Northern Orange County exchange will be approached by the committee at the next regular meeting.

EXPERTS HONOR SANTA ANA MEN WITH OFFICES

At the annual meeting of the Southern California Farm Advisors and Horticultural commissioners, held March 13 at the citrus experiment station, Riverside, H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, was elected president and A. A. Brock, horticultural commissioner, secretary.

The joint organization spent the day at the experiment station investigating the work carried on by the various research departments. In the morning, Prof. H. J. Quayle, entomologist, and Harry Smith, in charge of the insectary, gave complete reports on the pest control work that is being conducted by the station. Prof. Quayle outlined spraying experiments and Smith conducted the group through the insectary where several species of new parasites the being propagated for the biological control of scale insects in the citrus industry. Smith pointed out that two foreign explorers were in the field at the present time, one in South Africa and the other in China, seeking out beneficial insects for the control of the scale pests common to the local citrus groves.

During the afternoon Dr. J. T. Barrett, director of the experiment station, assisted by other members of the staff, conducted the group through the various field plots featuring pruning, root stock selection, and cover crops, giving detailed reports on each project.

FRUIT INDUSTRY GROWING RAPIDLY

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The rapid development of the fruit industry in the United States during recent years, brought out in figures on carlot shipments compiled by the United States department of agriculture, More than 450,000 carloads of leading fruits were shipped in 1924 as compared with 346,000 in 1923.

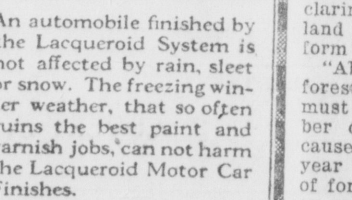

Expansion has been most marked in the shipments of apples, oranges and grapes. Shipments of apples increased from 109,000 carloads in 1920 to 134,000 in 1923. Oranges jumped from 50,000 carloads in 1920 to 76,000 carloads in 1923. Shipments of grapes were 41,000 cars in 1920 and 65,000 cars in 1923.

The information has been compiled from monthly mail reports furnished to the department by about 35,000 station agencies of railroad, express, and boat lines, and has been made into a printed statistical bulletin for the convenience of members of the industry in facilitating the successful marketing of the crops.

Copies of the bulletin which is statistical bulletin No. 5, may be obtained free upon request to the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Takes 100 Years For Potato To Become Popular

It took people more than a hundred years to discover that potatoes were good to eat. In 1738 when an attempt was made to introduce potatoes into Scotland, they were denounced on two contradictory counts. One was that they were not mentioned in the Bible, and therefore, not fit food for Christians. The other was that they were the forbidden fruit, which caused the fall of Adam and Eve. Potatoes also were believed to cause leprosy and fever.

TO HELP FARMERS SOLVE PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Woman will assist in untangling a man-made tangle.

She will be prominently identified with the Farmer-to-Consumer league, an organization of men and women who desire to better farm conditions, and to solve the farmer's problems.

"For 50 years men have been unable to solve the farmer's problem—it is high time the women took a hand," says Mrs. Chester G. Mayo, secretary of the league.

Farm organizations are older than labor organizations but women have had no part in them. Men and women have been the greatest sufferers through bad crops and foreclosures.

Equal Representation. "Now the women are to have equal representation with men on the executive committee of the league."

"The first drive of the women," she continues, "is to be directed toward the root of all farm evils, defective marketing."

"Lean and fat years alike bring unsatisfactory results because the farmer's labor, even in the best of seasons, are never justly rewarded. "Seven and a half million dollars worth of farm products from one year, exclusive of livestock, cotton and tobacco, will sell to the consumer for $22,000,000. The spread between the producer and consumer is greater than in any other industry."

Oppose Gov't. Control. "This can be remedied," she says, "not by putting farms under government control, but by an organization controlled and managed entirely by farmers."

The league is backing the Curtis-Aswell bill, asking for a government loan of $10,000,000 to be used as a revolving fund in guaranteeing a just price for his products and guaranteeing a marked reduction in the price of food to the consumer.

POULTRYMEN TO ATTEND SCHOOL

A two-day poultry school for poultrymen of Orange county will be held at Santa Ana May 25 and 26, Will Hatch, chairman of the poultry department of the farm bureau, announced today.

Experts from the university will be on hand to give talks at the school, which will be held from 10 to 3 o'clock. Five speakers have been secured thus far.

High anticipates a large attendance of poultrymen from all parts of the county. A number of poultrymen from San Diego, Los Angeles and Riverside counties are also expected.

New Farm Chief Of U. S. Is Back Of Forest Week

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—Secretary of Agriculture William Jardine today placed the department of agriculture squarely behind the observance of American Forest Week which President Coolidge has proclaimed for April 27—May 3. The secretary emphasized the importance of forestry to the farmer and small landowner, declaring that one-third of all forest land in the United States is in the form of small woodlots.

"About 80,000,000 acres of forest land in the United States must be put to work growing timber crops," says Jardine. "Man-caused forest fires, which every year sweep about 8,000,000 acres of forest land, must be stopped by an awakened public. Our productive sources of timber supply, through intelligent management."

Farmers, especially, should be awake to our country's forestry needs. One-third of all our forest land is in the form of farm woodlots and small holdings. Farmers also are the greatest single class of wood users. These are sufficient reasons why forestry is of prime importance to agricultural interests in all parts of the country."

MANY FARMING MEASURES ARE UP FOR ACTION

BY A. M. STANLEY, Orange County Farm Bureau

The evident need of a farmer organization to watch the farmer's interests before the legislature is more pronounced at this time than ever before. The business of farming would be seriously handicapped and the farmers would be deprived of the use of the highways by A. B. 828.

This bill prohibits the transportation of property on highways for compensation by other franchised carriers and under those terms a farmer would be prevented from assisting a neighbor during a rush crop season in hauling any of his produce for him.

Bureau Against Bill. The bill has the support of the railroads and franchised motor carriers and a very strong lobby is constantly on the job endeavoring to secure the enactment of this legislation. It is needless to say that the farm bureau and the affiliated agricultural organizations are using all in their power to defeat the measure.

On behalf of the farmer who owns a small Ford, the farm bureau has introduced amendments to motor vehicle legislation to provide for the elimination of the farmers' box-back Ford from commercial license requirements and to permit the operation of magneto lights on Fords until September 1, 1927. The first amendment corrects a practical discrimination against the small car owner and would be a benefit to all those people having removed the "turtle back" of their Ford. The second amendment would permit a sufficient time to wear out the magneto lighted cars now in operation and would effect a saving to all people using the same.

100 Bills Submitted. At the present time there are nearly a hundred bills in the legislature seriously affecting the farmers' interests and all of these are being pressed with more or less vigor. A private letter from Sacramento states:

"You would be astonished to know the difficulties we are encountering here on the agricultural program and of the many vicious measures that are being promoted against the welfare of agriculture."

DAIRY EXPANSION IS DISCOURAGED

The outlook for 1925 in the dairy industry is not as encouraging, according to report just received by the farm advisor's office from the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. The report indicates that further expansion in dairying this year seems inadvisable. A recovery in prices of dairy products could hardly be expected should the number of milk cows be further increased, it is said. In addition to the fact that domestic production appears adequate, the foreign dairy situation is such as to keep world market prices low and thus limit the height to which butter prices can rise without bringing in foreign butter, it is declared.

Domestic consumption should continue heavy in 1925 as favorable industrial conditions throughout most of the year are expected, and because of the tendency toward heavier per capita consumption of milk and dairy products, caused by advertising and educational work, experts say.

Europe can not be expected to improve in the near future as it did during the past year, it is said. Weeding out the least efficient cows and feeding more carefully would help to meet the present situation and still leave the farmers of the country in good position to meet the steady growth in the demand for dairy products which each year is showing, it is declared.

Large Red Pimples Itched and Burned Cuticura Healed

"I was bothered with large, red pimples on my face. They itched and scaled over and itched and burned causing me to scratch and irritate them. The scratching caused eruptions and I could not shave myself on account of them. I lost many nights' sleep on account of the irritation. The trouble lasted about two and a half months."

"I tried different remedies but they did not do any good. A friend told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. After using a few days I could see an improvement so purchased more and in two months I was healed." (Signed) George Pedregon, 331 D Ave. & 4th St., Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 29, 1924.

ENFORCE TRAFFIC LAWS

The Register is heartily in accord with the views expressed by Mr. C. W. McNaught in his letter published in The Register Forum yesterday. This paper has no sympathy with any of this talk about easing up on the enforcement of traffic laws "for the sake of business." In the first place we do not believe it hurts business a particle to enforce the laws, and in the second place if it did hurt business, that would be the misfortune of business and not the fault of the law or of its enforcement. Even if the law is at fault—which we do not think it is—it should be enforced just the same. Theoretically at least the law expresses the will of the majority of the people, and that is true democracy. If it does not express the will of the majority of the people it can easily be changed—it is up to the people to do so.

We do not believe that any considerable number of the people object to the traffic laws as they are enforced in this county. It is true that a small percentage of people do object to them, but that is no reason why the laws should not be enforced.

The traffic laws are perfectly reasonable; 35 miles an hour is fast enough for anyone to drive on the public highway. It is true that under some conditions a greater speed may be made with comparative safety. It is also true that under some conditions a speed of 45 or 50 miles can be made with less danger than under other conditions a machine may be driven 25 or 35 miles an hour. But the fact remains that 35 miles is fast enough for anybody to go—there is no necessity for going faster.

We hear a lot of talk of people going around Santa Ana and avoiding Orange county because they are liable to arrest if they break the traffic laws. In our judgment that is to Santa Ana's credit and Orange county's glory, and more power to the arm of the law say we.

As to people avoiding Santa Ana and Orange county on account of the way the traffic laws are enforced in this locality, we venture to say that not one automobilist in a thousand does anything of the kind. If he does he simply cuts off his nose to spite his own face, for it would be much easier for him to obey the laws while in Orange county than to drive around Orange county—much more expeditious and convenient and economical for him to do so.

And as for the one man in a hundred or a thousand that hasn't sense enough to see the matter in this light, the wider berth he gives us the better we will be pleased.

LET'S SHIP OUR TIN CANS

Reading in The Register that a proposal has been made to the city of Santa Ana for the purchase of its crop of tin cans, reminds us of the fact that a few years ago we had a great war, during which we collected all kinds of odds and ends in which there was more or less salvage value. We learned a lot about saving of waste. After the war was over, almost overnight we quit laying aside these odds and ends. In the reaction, we didn't want to save. Gradually, however, the adjustment that has produced normalcy in many things, has brought us back to the lessons of the war. We are beginning to wonder why some of the old bottles, tin cans, cream jars, old newspapers, tinfoil and similar articles cannot be salvaged to advantage.

If the city can find a way to ship its tin cans out of town, we will be thankful. If we can make a few dollars, well and good; if we can get them out of town—a long way out of town—we will be infinitely better off than we would be were we to pick on some unsightly spot, almost sure to be within view of persons in street cars or other traffic-bearing vehicles, and make it a hundred times more unsightly with huge heaps of rusty cans. Let's ship the tin cans, not only for salvage value but also because that is the best way to get rid of them.

Incidentally we might throw in a few "once-upon-a-time-was" automobiles to be found on vacant lots and in junkyards here and there. It may be that these remains of what were once pleasure craft weren't considered tin by those who owned them a few years ago, but they look enough like tin now so that they could be thrown in with rusty tin cans and never be called anything else.

FORGETTING HISTORY

History is not "bunk," as even the gentleman who was once quoted as calling it that would probably admit cheerfully enough. But in writing and teaching history in the past there have been two ways of preserving it and recalling it to the minds of present generations.

One of these ways has been to emphasize wars and international enmities, without proper regard to the causes back of such wars or the better understanding which may have arisen since between the countries involved.

A Canadian writer, in an article in "United Empire," tells of his own boyhood training and inherited traditions, all of which created a deep prejudice against Americans. Then he concludes: "After breaking away from the old roost and studying history, and mingling with the present generation of Americans, those feelings have quietly disappeared."

He advises Canadians and Americans alike to look forward to better relations.

It is well to keep alive the memory of heroic deeds, noble causes, powerful movements and the visions and purposes of great leaders. But historical hatreds should be forgotten, along with everything else which hampers rather than helps the growth of friendship, understanding and peace among peoples.

USING NATURE FOR POWER

It is high time for this country to curtail its waste of oil and coal, declares Dr. E. E. Slosson, and at the same time to inaugurate systematic research to develop new means of obtaining power.

There is the wind. Mankind doesn't begin to make as much use of this tremendous force as it might. There may be greater use of sailing ships in the future of a more perfect sort than the rotorship recently tried out in Europe, but based on the same principle. There may be greater use of windmills to generate electrical energy to be stored in batteries and utilized later for farm work.

There is water. Hydro-electric power is only now coming into widespread use in this country. There is room for vastly more development along this line.

There is the sun. It is estimated that the sunshine falling upon a square mile of land at sea level in this latitude in a year is the equivalent of 700,000 horsepower. All that is lacking to put the energy to greater use is the invention of the necessary machine to harness it.

There is heat within the earth. At present scientists are making various proposals of ways to tap this supply of natural heat, but nothing of assured success has yet been devised.

It may be long before these developments are reached, but mankind would be greatly benefited by immediate and serious application to the problems involved.

VALENCIAS GOOD INVESTMENT

The sale of another Valencia orange grove in the northwestern part of the city has attracted a good deal of attention among citrus property owners. The sales that have been made in the past week or two indicate a healthy regard for Valencia groves.

We have every reason to look on our citrus orchards with high regard. Like any other business, the business of growing oranges responds to proper attention. The owner who neglects his orchard is the man who gets discouraged. The careful, conscientious grower is nearly always a successful grower.

A good grove, kept up in proper shape, gives a good account of itself in Orange county. Soil, water supply and climate are the foundation upon which a grove is built, and, measured by soil, water supply and climate, by far the great majority of the citrus acreage of this county is found to be above par. The history of the Valencia industry and its prospects for the future, as reviewed by conservative business men and by well informed citrus men, supports the healthy regard that is shown for Valencia groves.

Historic City In Manager Class

Stockton Independent.
Monterey, pioneer Queen City of the Pacific; Monterey whose very name evokes all the romance and charm of a glorious past, has just voted for the adoption of the city manager form of government.

Seems a bit incongruous for the moment that a city whose mention turns the thoughts back to its founding more than 155 years ago when the Mission San Carlos de Monterey was established; a city usually connected with California's picturesque past; a city which always seems impregnated with Spanish tradition and culture, should adopt the most modern and approved form of municipal government.

But the incongruity vanishes in thin air when one remembers also that Monterey was one of the most progressive and influential city of California, that within its hospitable borders the first Constitution of California was drafted and that it served as the capital of California before the territory became a state.

So what more appropriate, what more natural that the city which has known so much of the law and government, the city whose influence on California's destiny none can gauge, should again assert its progressive spirit of old by demanding the most advanced and efficient system of city government.

Monterey's commercial and industrial activities have taken on a new lease of life during the past decade and its recent city election presages still greater strides in the future.

Dallying on the River Pact

Long Beach Press-Telegram.
It is passing strange that, in face of the hazards and menaces that the future might bring as to water supply for this section, there should be dallying at Sacramento and at Phoenix. This state and its sister state—Arizona—should be in the forefront of the states of the Colorado River basin in striving for ratification of the Colorado river pact. This was formulated after mature deliberation by representatives of the States of the Colorado Basin, and by Federal representatives, including Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce. A long period of time has elapsed since the preliminary agreements were reached. There is no warrant, it would seem, for additional delay.

The states immediately affected should co-operate to bring about action by congress as speedily as possible, so that the great work of damming the Colorado may begin. It will take many years to complete this task. It should begin without delay.

Indians Are Last Hope

Riverside Enterprise.
The Sherman Indian distance runners have never had any real competition in Southern California. Years ago they outclassed all white runners until marathon races here became a joke. No less an authority on such matters than Paddock, has picked the Indians as the most likely competitors for Nurm in his appearance in Los Angeles in April and the Riverside lads are working hard at their training stunts to appear against the great Finn. There isn't much expectation that any of the Indian boys will be able to give the man who has defeated all of the rest of the world and has spent a lifetime in preparation, hard competition; but it is to the Riverside institution that the authorities have turned as the last hope for an American champion who will stand any show.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON
MIXED DIET
There is every opportunity in the world for a healthy, satisfactory mixed diet.

First, learn the real quantity of food that is needed to nourish your body properly. Do not eat more than the necessary amount.

Learn how many calories, or heat measures for energy the body requires. Have at least 15 per cent of the total amount required in protein foods. You remember the different kinds of foods and the work each accomplishes for the body—proteins, fats and carbohydrates.

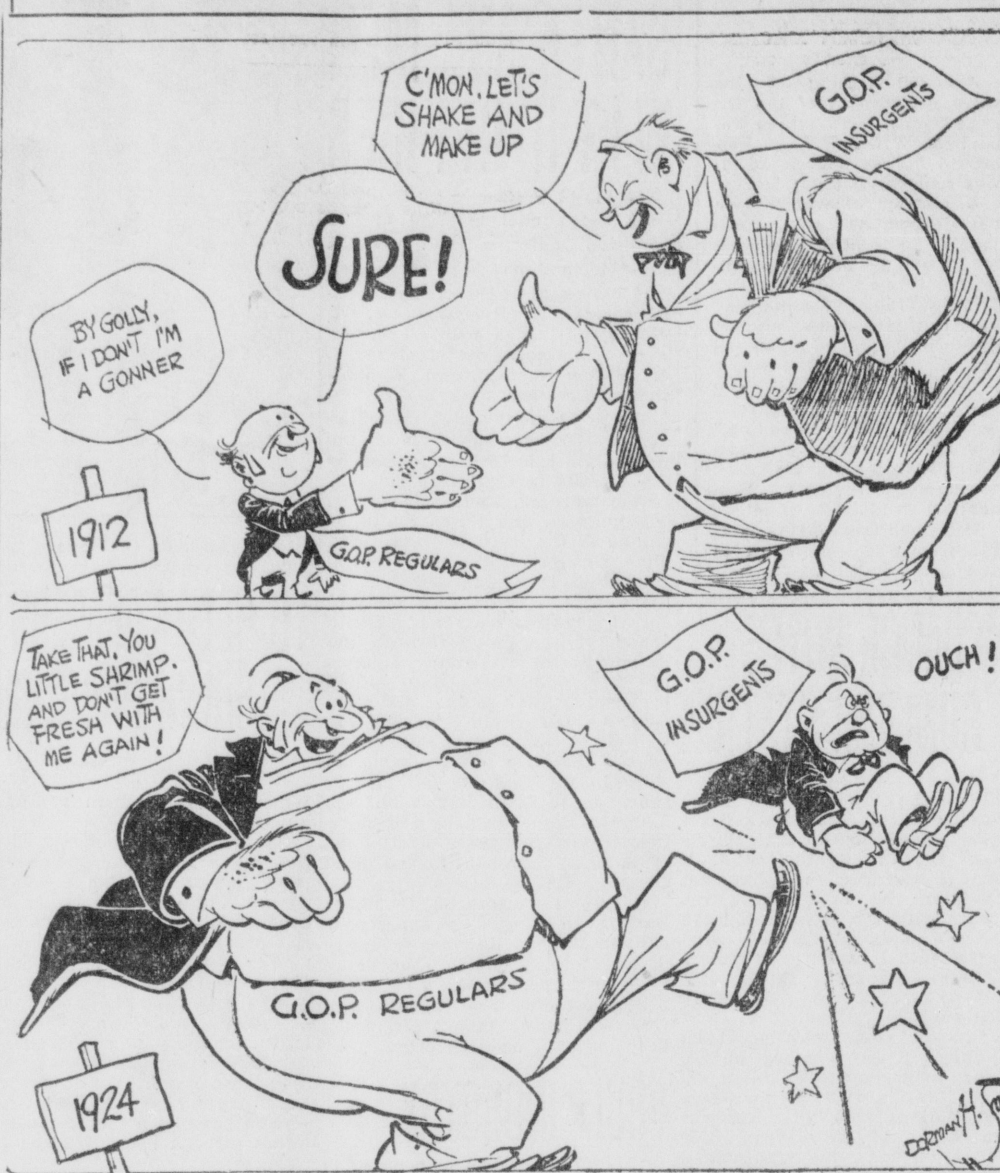

Don't eat the same foods every day. This is all right for a while when on a severe diet, but for satisfactory results, a change in program is necessary.

For the proteins, change the necessary amount of meat about a quarter pound daily for adults, in order to facilitate assimilation, and balance the daily change in both proteins and fats.

In breads, corn bread, muffins and pancakes, always change as often as possible. This kind of food, with the varieties of green vegetables and fruits, gives necessary third of food supply.

For the remaining portion, which will supply the last third of the content, remember the glass of milk, some kind of cheese, an egg or some kind of beans.

Oh, Of Course, There's a Difference

Puts Friends Above Money

Pasadena Star-News
Good friends are rather to be chosen than great riches. This is the sentiment of Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate. Mr. Schwab is quoted as saying that "nothing in life is so satisfactory and valuable and as interesting as the continued friendship of people you have known for a long time; money? Money is nothing to it; the older I grow—and I celebrated my sixty-third birthday a few weeks ago in Rome—the more I realize just what my friends mean."

Other have the same feeling as Mr. Schwab as to the inestimable value of friends. Fortune may fail—but loyal friends stand by and comfort. Bereavements may come—but friends are there to wipe away the tears and to soothe the racked soul. The tongue of slander may wag—but true friends stand by the slandered one through thick and thin.

The friendships of life are its great boons. It is a wonderful enrichment of one's character to be "sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust" in friends. It enables character to have good friends and to be a good friend. One may not have so many friends. But a sacred few suffice. It is the quality of friendship, rather than the number of so-called friends, that counts for most.

The stars come out. . . In silence sweet and cool,
We count the day's gifts over as we will.

IN THE LONG AGO

14 Years Ago Today
From the Register Files

March 18, 1911.
Hundreds of Santa Anans inspected the handsome new Elks hall here when that building was thrown open to the public yesterday.

The Santa Ana exhibit proved one of the features of the Pacific Land and Products exposition which opened in Los Angeles.

The appellate court granted Sylvester Overacker, sentenced to San Quentin for life for the alleged murder of G. A. Winn, a new trial. Overacker has been in the county jail here pending action on his appeal.

Over a long distance telephone, J. A. Turner of Santa Ana last night heard a fight between two of his dogs, kept on the ranch of Frank Lampham in the Santiago canyon, and a coyote. The dogs killed the foothills miscreant, which came down to kill some of Lampham's chickens.

The high school baseball championship of the county depended on the outcome of the game this afternoon between Santa Ana and Fullerton high schools.

Cougars Plentiful

The cougars which recently have been causing alarm in Washington state are not so menacing as they are reported to be, according to a bulletin from the Washington, D.C., headquarters of the National Geographic society.
"The cougar or mountain lion, while powerful enough to be dangerous to man, is in reality extremely timid," says the bulletin based on a communication from Dr. E. W. Nelson.

Owing to its being a potentially dangerous animal, the popular conception of it is that of a fearsome beast, whose savage exploits are celebrated in the folk-lore of our frontier. As a matter of fact, few wild animals are less dangerous, although there are authentic accounts of wanton attacks upon people, just as there are authentic instances of buck deer and moose becoming aggressive. It has a wild, screaming cry which is thrillingly impressive when the shades of evening are throwing a mysterious gloom over the forests.

In the mountains of Arizona one summer a mountain lion repeatedly passed along a series of ledges high above my cabin at dusk, uttering this loud weird cry, popularly supposed to resemble the scream of a terrified woman.
A Tireless Wanderer
"The mountain lion is usually nocturnal, but in regions where it is not hunted it not infrequently goes abroad by day. It is a tireless wanderer often traveling many miles in a single night, sometimes in search of game and again in search of new hunting grounds. I have repeatedly followed its tracks for long distances along trails, and in northern Chihuahua, I once tracked one for a couple of miles from a bare rocky hill straight toward a treeless desolate plain, for which it was heading, some eight or 10 miles away.

"Although inoffensive as to people, this cat is such a fierce and livestock that it is everywhere an outlaw."
Secures Prey by Stealth
"A mountain lion usually secures its prey by a silent, cautious stalk, taking advantage of every advantage until within striking distance and then, with one or more leaps, dashing the victim to the ground with all the stunning impact of its weight.

"In a beautiful live-oak forest on the mountain of San Luis Potosi I once trailed one of these great cats to the spot where it had killed a deer a short time before, and could plainly read in the trail the story of the admirable skill with which it had moved from cover to cover until it reached a knoll at one side of the little glade where the deer was feeding. Then a great leap carried it to the deer's back and struck the victim to the ground with such violence that it slid 10 or 12 feet across the sloping ground, apparently having been killed on the instant."

MEDITATION—Sent forth to preach the kingdom of God, this is the commission of every believer. The ways of preaching are as manifold as the needs of men—by work, by kindly deed, by example, by leadership in the world's work. No man is compelled but all are invited to this ministry.

The dritter, the morally lax, the man whose spirit sinks down into flesh does not get on well in the midst of the mysterious fact of life. A man must gird himself tightly and move out boldly after Christ. He must take up life resolutely and put it decisively into Christ's enterprise, to be and to do all that an unfolding sense of duty may reveal."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 9—THE BARREL BESIDE THE BROOM FACTORY

The March Hare and the Twins went in search of all the circus clowns, and before the week was out they found every one of them.

By that time all the elephants were scrubbed and the camels well dusted, and the trained seals put in practice, and the white horses taught new tricks and the calliope repaired and the wagons painted—and everything. Even the balloons were ready.

And in no time at all, the circus was ready to start on its travels to all the towns and cities where great crowds of people were anxiously waiting.

As the big red wagons bumped along the road, the Circus Man came to the place where the March Hare and the Twins were standing.

"I'm much obliged for your help," he said gratefully. "If it hadn't been for you I never would have known that spring was so near. Down south here where the circus stays in winter, one loses all track of time. Would you like to come with us and have some adventures? Perhaps I could teach you to do a circus act."

Nancy and Nick would have liked to go but the March Hare shook his head. "No, thank you, but I have more work to do. Getting the circus started was only one of the things I was told to do. Besides I'm not much good at acting. I was put into a story book once, something about a tea-party, I believe, and that was bad enough. I only behaved foolishly."

"Well, then, goodbye!" said the Circus Man. "Come to see me next year." And he shook hands all around.

"Good-bye!" called Bimbo the Clown. And he blew them a kiss.
